WARRANT CHARGES YOUTH KIDNAPED

School Friends Say 35-Year-Old Teacher and 17-Year-Old Student Planned Elopement.

Ellaville, Ga., January 27.—(Special.)—A warrant, charging Mrs. M. M. Wellens, 35-year-old mother and school teacher with kidnapping her 17-year-old pupil, Edwin Chapman, was sworn out by young Chapman's parents here today.

The teacher and pupil were last seen about a week ago driving off toward Atlanta in Mrs. Wellens' car. The woman's husband and the boy's father, W. C. Chapman, who swore to the warrant for the teacher's arrest said they believed the pair to be in Akron, Ohio.

Children of young Chapman's class at the Glenn Holly school, where he had been under instruction of Mrs. Wellens since last September said that the boy sometime ago had invited one of their number to go to Akron and that when the other student refused on the ground that he was without funds young Chapman is said to have replied that "he had a way to go."

Planned Long Time.
The youth and woman had planned the elopement for sometime, it was learned here tonight. Fellow students revealed that the Chapman boy had spent considerable time with the 35-year-old principal after school hours.

The boy's parents also believe the couple may have gone to Detroit, a number of young Chapman's friends recently having gone to the Michigan city and having written him of their success in obtaining employment there. It also has developed that Mrs. Wellens made a number of inquiries concerning chances of obtaining employment in or near Detroit as a school teacher.

Close friends of Mrs. Wellens and a number of her pupils were recalling today that recently she had been the victim of a number of "spells" which necessitated her immediate return home and that on these occasions she was taken to her residence by young Chapman.

Had Fund of $500.
Though Mr. and Mrs. Chapman are making desperate efforts to locate their son it is said that the woman's husband, a farmer living near here, has made only a casual attempt to find his wife.

Young Chapman is reported to have been homeless when he left home, but Mrs. Wellens is said to have drawn her salary of $200 as principal of the school and also to have obtained a loan of $300 on the farm where she and her husband lived.

The woman is described as being medium in size and very pretty. Young Chapman is large for his age, weighing about 145 pounds, with black wavy hair and blue eyes.

POLICEMAN HURT TRYING TO SAVE AGED NEGRO MAN

Struck down as he made an effort to snatch an aged negro man from the path of an automobile at Edgewood avenue and Butler street early Sunday morning, Patrolman A. L. Charges of drunk and reckless driving were preferred against Leroy Nixon, 640 Washington street, the driver of the automobile, which was said to have been traveling at a moderate speed. He was released after posting $1,000 bond.

UNDERWOOD TRAIN REACHES ALABAMA, OBSEQUIES TODAY

Southern Statesman To Rest Among Friends He Served in Congress for 32 Years.

Birmingham, Ala., January 27.—(AP)—The body of former United States Senator Oscar W. Underwood reached home today to rest among friends whom he served for 32 years as member of congress.

In the private car bearing the body of the Alabama statesman were members of his family and close friends who boarded the train last night at Alexandria, Va., near Woodlawn, the Virginia estate where Senator Underwood died Friday morning.

Funeral at 11 O'Clock.
From the station the body was carried to an undertaking parlor and members of the family went immediately to the home of Senator Underwood at 2040 Claremont avenue.

Later the casket was removed to the home where it will remain tonight. Tomorrow it will be taken to the Independent Presbyterian church to lie in state for two hours before funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock.

Despite overhanging skies and an all-day drizzle the station grounds were thronged with friends bowed in silent respect to the late leader. Among the number were officials of state and the city and people from every walk of life. There were no signs of restlessness when it was announced that the train schedule to arrive at 2:35 o'clock was an hour and five minutes late.

Casket Banned With Flowers.
The casket, banked high with floral designs, was removed from the observation section of the combination car and with tender care removed to the hearse awaiting outside the station.

The party was met by Birmingham friends and escorted to automobiles and the cortege moved slowly away while the silent throng stood by until the procession was under way before young Chapman.

Members of the family accompanying the body were the widow, Mrs. Bertha Woodward Underwood, Oscar W. Underwood, Jr., of Washington; and J. Lewis Underwood, of Birmingham, sons of the senator, all of whom were at Woodlawn when Senator Underwood died.

Mrs. J. Lewis Underwood, Frederick V. Underwood, a brother, of Knoxville; Judge E. K. Campbell and Charles M. Lewis, both of Washington, and Congressman William B. Oliver, of Tuscaloosa, who represented the Alabama delegation in congress.

Interment will be in Elmwood cemetery in the Underwood family plot.

WIFE OF BALDWIN TO FIGHT DIVORCE IN FRENCH COURT

Los Angeles, January 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Nell Maxine Baldwin, wife of Baldwin M. Baldwin, said today that she will not aid her husband in obtaining a divorce in Paris. She expressed belief that without her aid he will not be able to obtain a Paris decree.

Mrs. Anita Baldwin, mother of the former manager of Suzanne Lenglen, has declined to comment on an announcement by a New York attorney that Baldwin is sailing with the French tennis star and her mother for Paris with the intention of obtaining a divorce and marrying Mlle. Lenglen.

Their scheduled appearance before the microphone tonight to broadcast their story of the rescue was the only public function on the program of the day. The men who were to tell the story to radio listeners included Captain Fried, the crew of the lifeboat who took the Italians off the foundering America, and Nelson M. Smith, chief radio operator of the America.

Tomorrow, however, the city has planned for them another of the recognition of heroic deeds. It will mark the second time the honor has been conferred upon Captain Fried and to him will go the distinction of having been the second man twice to have received the city's acclaim.

The first greeting the city gave to the unassuming seaman was in recognition of his heroic rescue of the crew of the British freighter Antiope when he was in command of the liner President Roosevelt three years ago.

The other man who twice has received the city's acclaim was Commander Richard E. Byrd first for his north polar flight and the second time for his trans-Atlantic flight.

After the city hall ceremonies Captain Fried and Chief Officer Harry Mannin, who commanded the lifeboat in which the rescue was accomplished by the America, will be guests at a luncheon of the New York Advertising club.

Arrangements have been made to broadcast the reception and luncheon ceremonies. The municipal station, WYNY, and a chain of National Broadcasting company stations headed by WEAH, New York, will carry the exercises.

U. S. IS DESCRIBED AS HUGE VULTURE

Most Conservative Journals Play Up Crime Report and Stories of Failure of Prohibition.

Paris, January 27.—(United News.) A strong note of hostility to the United States and to Americans is again creeping into a portion of the French press.

While not so hostile as the campaign of anti-Americanism which swept through France coincident with the slump of the franc in 1926, it is of sufficient violence to disturb officials of the American embassy here.

The conservative newspapers, generally, are still very friendly to America, although the semi-official Temps does, from time to time, devote columns to violent criticism of what it terms America's "imperialism." But the criticism and hostility are especially noticeable in the newspapers of radical tendency.

Tells of Drunk "Drys."
Crime news tends to show Americans in an unfavorable light. Robberies, murders and other crimes are said, editorially, to have been committed "in a la American." Whenever possible, these papers reprint, from the English press, news which holds Americans in ridicule.

An instance was the publication at the top of a column on the first page of the Paris-Midi of a story dated from New York which bore the headline: "In the Land of Prohibition, Mounted Police Were Called Out To Keep the Drunkards in Hands." It purported to be a story of how New York observed New Year's and gave French readers a word picture of New York's millions fighting in the streets a drunken orgy.

Lo Rumeur, whose director, M. Georges Anquetil, was arrested and jailed during the judicial inquiry into the defunct Defiance financial scandal, crosses regularly against "the American peril." In this newspaper, Frederick Davidson said in an editorial note to be a Canadian, wrote a scathing article exposing this "new peril to civilization."

"What has become of the United States, once the hope of the world, the symbol of the spread eagle?" he wrote. "It has turned into a vulgar, its claws seize all the gold in the world, Gold and business form the religion of the American today."

Members of the editorial staff have been aroused by the forthcoming meeting of financial experts to revise the Dawes plan of war reparations. They aver that the plan knows little of the war debt problem. He knows only that America owes America money, and he resents it.

Only a few of the uniformed guests wore helmets while in their autos, but carried them on their laps. Also, they turned into a vulgar, instead of military and donned their full war paint in the entrance building proceeding thence to the castle, where Princess Cecile acted as hostess. Instead of the sailing Princess Hermine.

One version generally current at Doorn, Holland, is that the German emperor, who is said to be ill, is so ill that he refuses to recognize her as "her imperial majesty" conceding her merely the title of "kaiser's spouse." It also is rumored that she is out of sympathy with the policy of secrecy and the ban on photographing on such occasions as this. All this is emphatically denied, however, at Doorn castle where it is stated that Hermine is really ill with what at first seemed, chicken pox, but probably only gripe.

After congratulations by the blue-blooded assembly and divine services the birthday party proceeded upstairs.

GOATHAM TO HONOR SEA HEROES TODAY

Rescuers of 32 Men From Sinking Italian Steamer To Receive Noisy Greeting.

New York, January 27.—(AP)—Captain George Fried and his heroic crew of the United States liner America rested today after the city's first wave of welcome and acclaim for their rescue of the crew of the Italian freighter Antiope.

Their scheduled appearance before the microphone tonight to broadcast their story of the rescue was the only public function on the program of the day. The men who were to tell the story to radio listeners included Captain Fried, the crew of the lifeboat who took the Italians off the foundering America, and Nelson M. Left-Overs of Old Monarchistic Days Parade in Full Military Regalia Before Wilhelm.

CONSORT, SPURNED BY ROYALTY, ABSENT

Doorn, Holland, January 27.—(AP) The round of celebrations in honor of former Emperor Wilhelm's 70th birthday, which has been going on for the past week, was climaxed this morning in an official ceremony of congratulation followed by divine services and a birthday meal.

Memories of glorious by-gone days were once again conjured up for the aged and dethroned ruler when all the male participants, garbed in gala uniforms of their military rank with spiked helmets, decorations and high boots, saluted the head of the Hohenzollern family, who was resplendent in a field marshal's uniform of the first royal guards and wearing upon his breast the highest decorations within the gift of the German and many other nations. The women, while wearing modern dresses, nevertheless gave a flavor of the old court days by having gowns with trains and executing low court curtsies.

Black, Cold Day.
It was a bleak, cold and snowy day on the whole, but the weather man seemed moved also to give the septuagenarian emperor a taste of traditional "Hohenzollern weather," for about noon bright sunshine made its appearance for an hour and likewise the black and white checkered Hohenzollern flag on the palace and entrance building, and the gold and black banner of the kaiser's family on the orange, both of which had hung limp all day, began to flutter in the breeze.

Whatever birthday cheer there may have been there was little on the outside to give evidence of it. Dutch constabulary kept up a constant patrol along the barbed wire fence and the front portal closed immediately whenever an automobile bearing royalty had whisked rapidly past gapping villagers and vainly struggling photographers into the premises.

Few Wear Helmets.
Only a few of the uniformed guests wore helmets while in their autos, but carried them on their laps. Also, they turned into a vulgar, instead of military and donned their full war paint in the entrance building proceeding thence to the castle, where Princess Cecile acted as hostess. Instead of the sailing Princess Hermine.

RAILROAD MERGER HAS NO BEARING ON FUTURE DEALS

Washington, January 27.—(United News.) The action of the interstate commerce commission yesterday in approving the merger of the New York Central system with two of its principal subsidiaries has very little association with the general railroad consolidation problem.

While the proposed fusion is entered under the sections of the federal law providing for general railroad consolidation, the New York Central's merger is regarded by most observers in the railroad field as a move in a program much older than the modern conception of the probably eventual inclusion of the 200-odd class one railroads in 18 or 20 giant merged systems.

The modern great railroad was created over the last century by a process of purchase of small lines, of construction by separate corporations, and of borrowing by mortgages which identified the exact stretches of line used as security.

Action of Old Program.
The older program is that which is constantly resulting in the crystallization of the organization of the existing trunk line systems. Practically every great railroad in the eastern half of the United States, though treated as a single unit by the public it serves, must be regarded by its operation and legal officials as loose framework of detached and separate systems, each having its own history by terms of continuously expanding legal agreements, which have to be constantly renewed.

At one time recently, the great Pennsylvania railroad system consisted of nearly 1,000 separate corporations, each one tied to its associates by effective legal strings, but nevertheless each one having to be reported about with separate bookkeeping records, and given continual legal recognition.

Centralization Begins.
Several years ago, as a pioneer, the Pennsylvania began the process of simplifying its corporate identity. With the ready-given permission of the interstate commerce commission, that system proceeded to kill off subsidiary corporations and centralize legal ownership at a rapid pace. The process still is going on, and the day may come when such a great railroad system will be in law—as it is in fact—a single unit, all of its holdings in one corporation.

The New York Central has never represented so diversified a corporate status. Notwithstanding, the parent company owns more than 90 per cent of the stock of the Big Four and the Michigan Central, while these in turn owned more than 90 per cent of several other subsidiaries and has made it necessary to spend considerable money in keeping alive the separate corporate existences.

In practice, nearly all of the corporations concerned had common officers, and when Patrick Crowley became president of the Central system some years ago he automatically became likewise the president of a hundred almost forgotten railroad corporations which are included in the main stem.

In the view of the modern railroad executive, efficiency is requiring simplification of complex corporate structures and the permission given Saturday to the New York Central to merge and operate under one name the Michigan Central and the Big Four and their attachments means a long step toward this goal.

COOLIDGE WILL VETO ENTIRE DEFICIENCY BILL TO KILL INCREASE, IS OPINION AT CAPITAL.

Washington, January 27.—(United News.) The fight over the proposed $24,000,000 increased prohibition enforcement appropriation apparently has just begun.

Senate and house conferees on the first deficiency bill, which contains the appropriation, are scheduled to meet this week. With four out of six on the conference reported opposed to the increase, it is believed it may be rejected.

And, if the bill is returned to the senate with the $24,000,000 eliminated, it is not known if the conference report will be accepted. The senate voted overwhelmingly for the increased appropriation.

Then, if the appropriation is retained in the deficiency bill as forwarded to the white house for signing, there is every reason to believe the president will veto the entire bill rather than permit the $24,000,000 to ride through.

Cannon Demands Fund.
A survey of the situation today gives every indication that the prohibition bureau will have to worry along on its present $13,000,000 appropriation.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., official of the Anti-Saloon league and of the Methodist Church South, however, will not give up the opportunity for the increased prohibition appropriation without a vigorous fight. He was partially responsible for forcing the amendment through the senate and has served notice he will continue his battle.

President Coolidge, it is understood, is supporting Secretary of Treasury Mellon in his stand that a survey should be made to budget any increased prohibition funds before an appropriation is made.

The dry republican majority in the house faces two alternatives. It must either support the administration or the Anti-Saloon league.

What it will actually do if the appropriation is eliminated from the bill in the face of the Anti-Saloon league stand is a question of grave doubt.

Committee Four to Two.
Two of the three house conferees, Crampton, Michigan republican, and Wood, Indiana republican, both prohibitionists, are supporting Secretary Mellon.

The third conferee, Byrnes, Tennessee democrat, is siding with some members of his party in their effort to force the amendment through.

As in the house, two of the scheduled senate conferees, Smoot, Utah republican, and Warren, Wyoming republican, are favorable to the treasury chief and the administration, while McKellar, Tennessee democrat, the other senate conferee, is said to be in favor of the $24,000,000.

No prohibition measure proposed in recent years has created such widespread discord among dry members of congress and dry organizations. The Anti-Saloon league, divided among its own leaders on the $24,000,000, has taken a stand opposing the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, which is supporting Mellon.

Diplomatic Boze Censured.
Clinton N. Howard, chairman of the National United Committee for Law Enforcement, has called upon congress to dry up Washington before appropriating additional funds for enforcement work outside the capital.

In a speech today, Howard attacked the alleged overflow of diplomatic liquor into bootleg channels. "It is common report that enough liquor is coming in under protection of foreign privileges to float the ark," he said. "There is no reason why any foreign property should enjoy immunity from the laws of our country, or why the constitution should not be in force on every foot of soil under the American flag."

"The leak in the foreign embassies has become a national scandal and the time has come to make the demand that no foreign flag should protect a speakeasy on American soil, or that liquor intended for personal use of foreign consuls should be allowed to leak into the bootleg trade."

Henry H. Curran, president of the association against the prohibition amendment, issued a statement here today calling failure of congress to appropriate $300,000,000 for enforcement of the amendment necessary to dry up the country by Prohibition Commissioner Doherty—"nullification of the eighteenth amendment."

"The very members of congress who proclaim their adherence to prohibition by preaching, if not by practice, provided the negative votes to deprive the prohibition commissioner of the help he said he needed in order to enforce prohibition," Curran said.

HOOPER AND SMITH MEETING AT MIAMI

Measure, Now on Floor, Is Last Major Legislation Before Senate During Present Session.

Washington, January 27.—(United News.)—Only one more major engagement is expected in the senate's long naval war which may end this week with passage of the cruiser construction bill.

The principal remaining issue is a provision in the house bill that all 15 of the 10,000-ton cruisers and one aircraft carrier authorized shall be completed in three years.

President Coolidge wants this time limit removed and Senator Borah, Idaho republican, is prepared to lead the fight for its elimination. He has the support of the independent group opposing the entire bill.

Republican senators who usually support the administration are leading the fight against the president's proposal reversing completely the usual republican alignment.

Chairman Hale, of the senate naval affairs committee is determined to keep the clause in the bill and he has the support of Chairman Britten, of the house committee, who declares that President-elect Hoover favors the bill as drawn.

Coolidge Against Clause.
"The time limit now in the cruiser bill is the most important section of the measure," Britten said in a statement issued today. "It is the one real assurance for 15 steel ships under construction in 1931, when the Washington conference again meets, to eliminate it would substitute paper cruisers while England, Japan, France and Italy are proceeding with carefully considered steel ship programs."

"The house is overwhelmingly in favor of building real steel ships quickly and the three-year time limit will do it. I am sure the time limit will be pleasing to President-elect Hoover."

Mr. Coolidge requested elimination of the time clause in his last message to congress and his position was reiterated last week. He argued that the building program should be carried on by the president as the condition of the treasury warrants.

Borah said in his first speech on the cruiser bill that actual building should be delayed until the 1931 limit. He said the eventuality he believes inevitable in the event of conference failures.

The Borah amendment calling for retention of international laws governing the conduct of belligerents and neutrals in wartime has been accepted by Hale, approved by Secretary of State Kellogg, and adoption is expected without further debate.

Senator King, Utah democrat, who was absent from the senate because of illness last week, is expected to make a fight for reduction of the cruiser program to five or ten ships, but his chances for success are believed slight. Unless the lineup now indicated changes, the bill will pass in virtually its present form except for addition of the Borah amendment.

HOOPER FAVORS BILL AS PRESENTED.
Washington, January 27.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover, who represented today by Chairman Britten, of the house naval committee, as favorable to retention of the time limitation clause in the naval construction program which President Coolidge is insisting that the senate eliminate.

On the eve of a vote in the senate on the battle between the president and the naval bill proponents over elimination of this provision requiring a start on the 15 cruisers within two years, Representative Britten in a statement today declared:

"I am sure the time limit will be pleasing to President-elect Hoover. "When I talked with Mr. Hoover the other day, he certainly gave me the impression of desiring a navy second to none in power and efficiency; a navy commensurate with our world commercial and political position."

TWO SHIPS SEND PLEAS FOR HELP AS ATLANTIC RAGES

Boston, January 27.—(AP)—Two coast guard cutters, the Mojave and Tampa, were battling heavy seas off the north Atlantic tonight as they raced to the assistance of the disabled British liner Silver Maple.

No word has been received from the vessel since her broadcast an SOS call yesterday, reporting that her steering gear was crippled. She was 730 miles east of Boston, with fierce winds sweeping the ocean, according to reports from the coast guard cutter. It was believed that the Silver Maple was at the mercy of extremely rough seas.

London, January 27.—(AP)—Lloyd's received word from Horta, the Azores today that the Italian freighter, Capto Vado, apparently was in distress about midway between the Azores and Bermuda. The tug, Humber, is going to her assistance.

VICTOR AND VANQUISHED IN RECENT PRESIDENTIAL RACE ONLY YARDS APART BUT NEITHER CALLS.

Best Informed Opinion Is That Hoover Will Invite Smith To Call at Winter Home.

Miami Beach, Fla., January 27.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, victor and vanquished in the late presidential campaign, were in this sun-kissed island town at the same time today, but they did not meet. Whether they will do so is as yet an unanswered question upon the tongues of both politicians and just plain citizens.

To all outward appearances, at least, neither the president-elect nor the democratic standard bearer was permitting this matter to disturb his enjoyment of the Sabbath. There was much discussion among their friends, however, as to just what were the proprieties in the circumstances—should the former governor of New York make a call of courtesy upon the next president or should Mr. and Mrs. Hoover take the initiative by inviting Mr. and Mrs. Smith to Number 3 Belle Isle.

Some took the one view and some the other and there the matter appeared to rest tonight. Upon which side it will be resolved if there ever is a requirement for resolution remains for future determination.

Smith at Coral Gables.
The former chief executive of the Empire state, who is making his headquarters at a fashionable hotel at Coral Gables during his stay, and a week or more in the Miami section, arrived at the city across Biscayne bay at 9:30 a. m. from Sarasota and upset by insisting on going directly to the chapel of the Roman Catholic Church of the Gesù for mass.

Later Mr. Smith and John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee and William F. Kenney, lifelong friend, were joined by Joseph T. Smoot, president of the Miami Jockey club, who escorted them to his home on Bay road, Miami Beach. The former governor had a round of golf, took lunch with Mr. Smoot and later had a swim in the Bath club, one of the most exclusive clubs in this section of Florida. He then went to the hotel at Coral Gables where he joined Mrs. Smith with Mrs. Kenney, had a quiet dinner and motored to Miami from Sarasota.

Hoover Back from Fishing.
President-elect Hoover, just back from three days of fishing in the Florida keys, followed his usual Sunday routine, having a late breakfast and attending services at the Community church here, where he and Mrs. Hoover listened to a sermon by the Reverend Elisha A. King, a minister who formerly lived at San Jose, Calif., only a short distance from Palo Alto, the home town of the Hoovers.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hoover took an automobile ride and this evening they had nine guests in for dinner, including former Governor James Goodrich, of Indiana, and Mrs. Goodrich; Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Philadelphia publisher; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bacheller and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burke, of Pittsburgh.

So far as their friends could recall, the president-elect and his late opponent never had met and physically, at least, they were closer together today than they got at any time during the stirring days of their spectacular contest for what frequently has been described, the greatest office in the world.

If they do not meet within the next two days it is not likely that they will do so this week as Mr. Hoover plans now to leave here Thursday evening for Long Key, 90 miles south, to resume his quest for a sailfish, and

General Cut in Production Recommended To Farmers To Hold Prices Up This Year

Watermelons and Peanuts Too Bountiful; Corn Price Forecast as Lower for New Crop.

Washington, January 27.—(P)—American farmers were urged today to continue their efforts to adjust production to demand by the bureau of agricultural economics in its outlook report for 1929. The bureau also advocated that the farmers avoid increasing production of those products which are in ample supply if the present level of gross agricultural income is to be maintained.

"The agricultural outlook for 1929 is for some improvement in the mid-west and east," the bureau's survey declared, "offset by conditions in other regions possibly not quite so good as in 1928." For agriculture as a whole total gross income will probably be maintained near its present level of around $12,000,000,000 to $12,500,000,000.

Maintained Demand.
The domestic demand for farm products, the bureau said, "is expected to be maintained during the early part of the year, with foreign demand continuing about the same as last year. Some expansion in beef cattle may be warranted," the report said, "but farmers were cautioned against too rapid expansion of sheep, dairy cattle, hogs and fruits. Some expansion was recommended for potatoes and feed crops."

The higher interest rates affecting the farmers in some sections of the country may result in a less favorable agricultural credit situation, the report declared, but little change is expected in the price of farm machinery, fertilizers, and building materials. Farm wages are expected to be lower at harvest time, it added.

Larger Wheat Demand.
In its summary of recommendations on leading crops and livestock, the bureau said that it was probable that the world supply and demand for wheat in 1929-30 will be somewhat more favorable for marketing than they were last season.

In the view of the probability of another large crop of hard winter wheat, the report said, spring wheat farmers should hesitate to increase their present acreage of hard spring wheat. Wheat prices, the bureau believes, probably will continue relatively low unless acreage is materially reduced. Rye prices will follow the trend of wheat prices, the bureau said.

With lower feeding requirements and probably a lower European demand corn prices may be lower than they were in 1927 and 1928, the bureau continued. Corn prices during the summer, largely determined by new crop prospects, probably will not be supported by unusually short farm supplies.

Tobacco Outlook Favorable.
The report said that probably not more than a 25 per cent increase in Virginia type peanuts can be absorbed by the market without lowering the present average price to the farmer.

The outlook for cigar tobacco in 1929 appears favorable, the bureau said. The present outlook for flue-cured tobacco indicates the need for a reduction of acreage. A moderate increase of burley acreage might safely be made, but the bureau warns that there is grave danger that the burley growers will respond to the present burley prices by overplanting in 1929.

The outlook for fire-cured and dark air-cured tobacco does not justify an increase in acreage in the opinion of the bureau.
Unsell watermelon acreage is reduced from 10 to 20 per cent below that of 1928, the bureau added, an average yield of 1929 is likely to result in unsatisfactory prices. An average cut of about 15 per cent would limit the producing area close to the more moderate acreage of 1927 and still yield an average crop in an average season, it was pointed out.

Southeastern Forecast.
For the southeastern section the following forecast was issued:
"The outlook for producers throughout the southeast region warrants confidence in a production program in which improvements in quality and in distribution of products, such as the greater use of legume hays, is emphasized rather than material increases in total quantities produced. In Appalachian region and rougher sections of the Piedmont and in certain other localities where conditions are definitely favorable development of dairy enterprise offers good prospects for increased income. Increasing competition from other states in those special fruit and vegetable crops generally grown throughout the country, in which the advantage of the south is largely that of early season, suggests caution in expanding production of those commodities and varieties which do not have virtually clear fields in consuming markets. Available resources left over after providing for acreage not in excess of last year for the major staple products may well be applied to production of home-grown food and feed and to better pastures."

DROP PREDICTED IN TEMPERATURE IN ATLANTA TODAY

The tenacious foggy drizzle of the past week is scheduled to begin clearing this morning, with clear weather to be followed by a drop in temperatures Monday night, according to the predictions of the national weather bureau in Washington. However, raininess and rain will follow on Tuesday, the forecast said.

Sunday followed the standard of the preceding days with practically unchanging temperatures, and overcast skies accompanied at intervals by a slow drizzle. Temperatures ranged only from a high mark of 38 degrees to a low reading of 30 degrees.

COCHRAN TELLS OF EXPERIENCES AS SHIP GROUND

Describing his experiences aboard the President Garfield, Dollar liner which last Sunday ran aground in the Bahamas, Dr. Albert H. Cochran, Jr., Atlanta physician who is ship surgeon on the round-the-world liner, has written his parents here that he will continue the cruise.
While the ship ran aground, it was not taking water and there was no immediate need to abandon ship, Dr. Cochran pointed out, and he wrote that the greatest danger of the ship sinking came when the boat was being pulled off the reefs. He said the oil was taken out of one of the two huge tanks while the other full tank was not emptied, so that when the liner was pulled into the water, it listed and almost turned over.
The passengers were taken off the President Garfield by the Pan-American. No baggage or equipment was lost in the accident. The President Garfield later was examined by officials and pronounced shipshape, so that the cruise will be continued.

TRIP TO TEXAS IS PRIZE OFFERED GA. FARMERS

Dr. Soule Announces Winners of Cotton and Corn Five Acre Contests.

Athens, January 27.—(P)—A trip to Louisiana, Texas and Mexico will be the additional reward to winners of first place in the Georgia five-acre cotton and corn contests being conducted by the Georgia State College of Agriculture, according to announcement from the college here.

Two or three members of the college's extension service, who have done outstanding contest work during 1928, will be members of the party. The trip will include spending a day in New Orleans, a day in Houston, a tour of the Rio Grande valley and a stop in Brownsville as the last point before crossing the border. The party will go into Mexico to Matamoros, where it will attend an international agricultural banquet, returning to Houston from there to spend Sunday. They will visit the capitol at Austin and will be received by the governor and both houses of the Texas state legislature. Before returning home, the party will spend a final day inspecting farming operations in northeastern Texas.

DR. SOULE ANNOUNCES WINNERS OF CONTEST

Athens, Ga., January 27.—(Special).—Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the Georgia State College of Agriculture at Athens, has made the following announcement of the winners in the five-acre corn production contest. These prizes and awards were made at a special convocation of farmers, county and home demonstration agents and students.

LEE STREET WIDENING URGED BY FEDERATION

South Fulton Civic League To Hold First Meeting of Year Today.

The first public meeting of the South Fulton Civic federation will be held at Lee Street school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight, bringing together civic units from practically every section of south and west Fulton county.

In addition to a large percentage of the membership of the 21 organizations making up the federation the public in general is invited to attend and become familiar with the 1929 civic program.

Dr. W. Beecher DuVall, president, and W. W. Matthews, secretary, are in charge of the program which will include addresses by Paul Etheridge, chairman Fulton county commission; Clark Donaldson, chief of construction; George West, former president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; Ed L. Humphries, president of the East Point Chamber of Commerce and H. Russell, of the Atlanta Motor club.

Delegations from College Park, Hapeville, East Point, Ben Hill, Sylvan Hills, Lakewood Heights, Moxley Park, Capitol View, Peters Street Atlanta Improvement club, Whitehall street and seven civic bodies in the immediate West End section, will be present. Five women's clubs and three municipalities are members of the federation.

Work in behalf of street improvement, including an 80-foot boulevard from the Clayton county line to meet the newly-finished Peters street pavement at the intersection of Whitehall street, traversing Lee street through College Park and East Point, with Whitehall street widening and Broad street extension will feature the federation's activities for the next few months.

NEW HOSTESS NAMED FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Hornady Announces Mrs. Simmons Will Return in Two Weeks.

Pointing out that she had never dismissed Mrs. T. E. Simmons, who until last May had been for more than nine years hostess of the Atlanta Woman's club, Mrs. John R. Hornady, president, Sunday night announced that Mrs. Simmons would return to her duties as hostess in two weeks. She is at present in Florida.

Employment of the hostess is part of the duties of the president and when Mrs. Hornady was elected president of the club on May 14, by one group of members, she immediately notified Mrs. Simmons that her services would be retained.

Shortly afterward when she was re-elected as president of the club by a court injunction, Mrs. Charles Goodman, who assumed the office, replaced Mrs. Simmons with a Mrs. Addis, who later resigned, and in turn was replaced by Mrs. H. P.

EVELYN NESBIT JAILED IN RAID ON NIGHT CLUB

FEATURES OF THE NEW FORD

Safety

ONE of the outstanding features of the new Ford is its mechanical, internal-expanding six-brake system.

This is unusually reliable and effective in action because the braking surfaces of all six brakes are fully enclosed. There is no possibility of mud, water, sand, road dirt or grease entering the brake mechanism or getting between the bands and drum and impairing brake performance.

The use of steel forgings wherever there is a possibility of wear in the chassis of the car, the sturdy steel body construction, balance, ease of operation and control and a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield are other important safety features.

Comfort

You have a feeling of mental comfort in driving the new Ford because you are sure of its mechanical reliability. No matter how long the trip or rough or devious the roadway, you know it will bring you safely, quickly to the journey's end.

Physically, too, you will feel fresh and relaxed in the new Ford because it is such a roomy, comfortable car. Seats are wide and deeply cushioned, with backs designed to conform to the curves of the body.

Even on comparatively rough stretches, there are no hard bumps or jolts, nor exaggerated bouncing up and down. The four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers and transverse springs take up or absorb the force of every unevenness in the road before it reaches the body, frame and chassis of the car.

Reliability

The new Ford is reliable in performance because of its carefully planned simplicity of design and the enduring quality that has been built into every part.

Throughout, it has been made to give you many thousands of miles of pleasant, enjoyable motoring at a minimum of trouble and expense. From every part of the world come letters from Ford owners commenting on this reliability, and giving specific data on unusual performance.

Thousands of the new Fords have been driven more than 50,000 miles in the past year. Some, used night and day, have passed the 100,000-mile mark. There is no telling how far they will go. The average life of the Model T was seven years. We believe this new car will do better than that.

Economy

The new Ford is an economical car to own and drive because of the low cost of operation and up-keep. It averages more than 20 miles per gallon of gasoline and the cost of tires and oil is also low.

Low first cost, the security of a fair trade-in value, the availability

SERVICE

"IT HAS always been our belief that a sale does not complete the transaction between us and the buyer, but establishes a new obligation on us to see that his car gives him service. We are as much interested in his economical operation of the car as he is in our economical manufacture of it.

"For that reason we have installed a system of controlled service to take care of all Ford car needs in an economical and improved manner. We wish all users of Ford cars to know what they are entitled to in this respect, so that they may readily avail themselves of this service."

Henry Ford

of Ford dealers, and close supervision of service are additional reasons for the economy of the new Ford.

The cost of new parts is also low because of the established Ford policy of doing business at a small margin of profit.

Beauty

The new Ford is distinguished by its quiet simplicity of line and air of sturdy strength. Without being extreme, it has struck a new note in motor car designing. A particularly pleasing feature is a choice of beautiful colors in all body types without additional cost.

The upholstery is of woolen material, rich and luxurious, yet long-wearing. Fenders are heavy and gracefully contoured. Instrument panel—door handles—window lifts—interior trimming and finish—all reveal a quality of material and a careful workmanship unusual in a low-price car.

Ease of Control

Another outstanding feature of the new Ford is its ease of operation and control.

The steering wheel answers to the touch of a finger. Gears shift silently, smoothly. Brakes take hold quickly, firmly even on rain-swept pavements. Quick acceleration and alert speed are especially appreciated in traffic and emergencies. A space little longer than the car itself is all you need for parking.

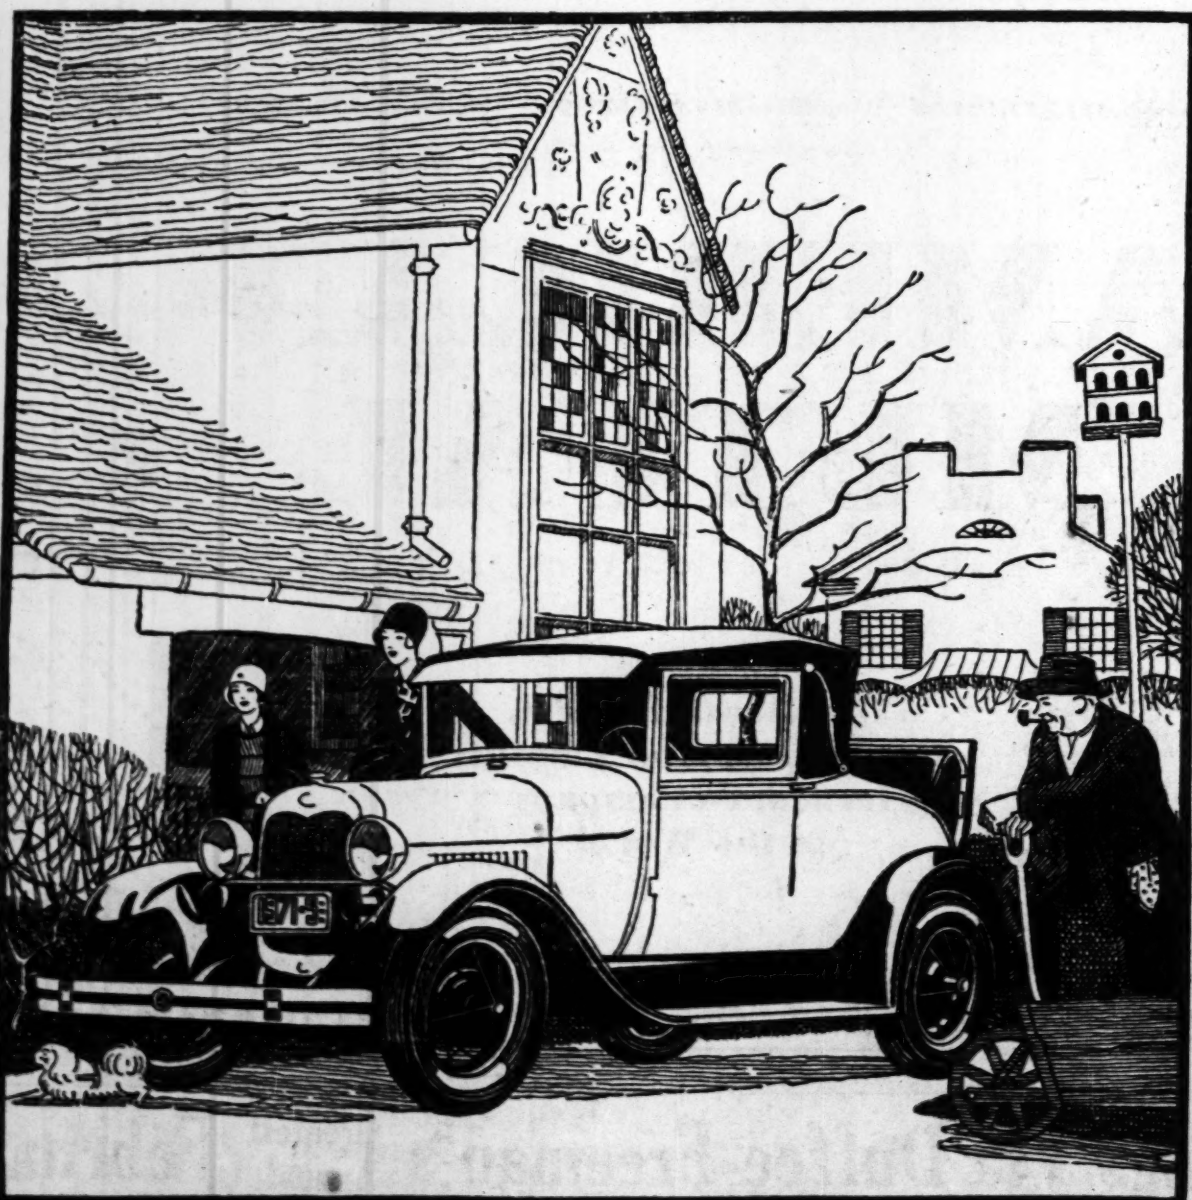

All of these things simplify the mechanics of motoring and add a great deal to the joy and comfort of motoring. Particularly to a woman, they mean driving without strain or fatigue.

Smooth Speed

Everywhere you go, you note the alert, capable performance of the new Ford. You can judge its acceleration by the way it gets away in traffic. A smooth stretch on the open road gives a revealing measure of its speed. The way it climbs the hills in high is an indication of its abundant power.

The new Ford will do 55 to 65 miles an hour, which is probably faster than you will ever need to go. Far more important is the way it rolls along at 35 and 40 and

45. This is your average driving speed and you can maintain it smoothly, easily, comfortably for hours in the new Ford.

Foreign College Students Gather To Attend Style Show Here At Banquet Here

Assembling a record number of foreign students, Emory university was host to the Cosmopolitan club of the Atlanta colleges Saturday night at a banquet held on the Emory campus. The assembly included in addition to the students, President Harvey W. Cox, of Emory; Hon. Blas Molina, his wife and daughter; Dr. J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott college; Dr. W. A. Smart, dean of men at Emory; Dr. Ross H. McLean, head of the history department at Emory; and others. Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, who was scheduled to attend, was unable to be present.

From Agnes Scott college a dozen girls representing half as many countries were present. Emory's first in numbers, having more than 40 students present, most of whom were foreign, and represented nine different nations. Georgia Tech ran second with 20 students present, all of whom were foreign. Other schools represented were Oglethorpe, and Southern Dental college.

Leslie K. Patton, head of the personnel department of Emory, acted as toastmaster. He introduced as first speaker, Alexander F. Gavrilovich, Russian student and president of the Emory Cosmopolitan club. He delivered the welcome to the other students. G. Castano, Mexican student of Georgia Tech, responded for the visitors.

The principal speaker of the night was Dr. Cox, of Emory, who spoke upon the new world movement for better relations between nations. He commended the motto that the students have adopted for their clubs, "Above All Nations Humanity," stating that as long as a sufficient number of young men and women had this ideal at heart, there could not be another international combat such as occurred a decade ago.

Dr. McCain spoke a word for Agnes Scott, and Miss Frances Freeborn, of Decatur, gave a reading. John Tate, Glew club entertainer from Emory, and Gustavus Quinones, Jr., from Porto Rico, furnished entertainment. The banquet hall was decorated with the flags of 15 nations, all of who were represented at the assembly.

McCallum Hosiery Chiefs To Attend Style Show Here

GEORGE B. McCALLUM.

NORMAN E. HORN.

George B. McCallum, president, and Norman E. Horn, general sales manager of the McCallum Hosiery company of Northampton, Mass., will be visitors at the M. Rich & Bros. Co. Tuesday, coming here to attend the department stores' special Tuesday fashion day style show of McCallum hosiery.

Miss Isabel Hopkins, stylist of the McCallum company, of Cannes, Biarritz, Deauville and Paris, will be in charge of the fashion revue in the Rich tea room from 12 to 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, and from 2 to 3 o'clock will be present at a fashion tea in the same place to give advice to Atlanta women on matching hosiery and costume shades for smart effects.

This is the first time that Mr. McCallum and Mr. Horn have attended a style show in any department store.

Atlanta business and educational leaders will find Mr. McCallum a highly interesting notable in view of the fact that in addition to his work as head of the company which bears his name, he is one of the 10-year trustees of Smith college and was for five years treasurer of the famous Northampton School for Women. He also is a past president of the Northampton Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. McCallum spent several months last summer in Japan, with the director of the McCallum research organization, working with representatives of the imperial Japanese government and of silk filatures in Japan, to develop a finer grade of silk.

Mr. Horn became associated with the McCallum company in 1924 to reorganize the distributing branches of the business. He is a member of the Taylor Society of Management and of the American Society of Mechanical Special models and special music will be arranged by Rich's for the hosiery style review and tea of Tuesday.

PAUL C. WOLMAN TO VISIT VETERANS OF FOREIGN WARS

Arrangements for the reception and entertainment of Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, the junior vice-commander-in-chief of the national society, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will be the main feature of the meeting of the Greater Atlanta post, No. 390, V. F. W., to be held in the chamber of commerce building at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, according to Elmer E. Wilson, adjutant.

Word has been received from Captain R. B. Handy, national adjutant of the V. F. W., that the headquarters of which are located in Kansas City, Kans., that the vice-commander is to visit about 13 cities throughout the south in Tennessee, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Louisiana, where posts of the veterans are established, and is scheduled to be in Atlanta on Thursday, January 31.

His visit and message will be of particular interest to all men who have served the Stars and Stripes in foreign lands and on foreign waters in time of war as the regular membership of the V. F. W. is composed exclusively of service and ex-service men of this distinction.

KING MAINTAINS STEADY PROGRESS ON ROAD TO HEALTH

London, January 27.—(P)—The progress of King George was maintained today. Lord Dawson of Penn visited him both morning and evening but no medical bulletin was issued. During the morning visit of the physician to Buckingham palace he had an unusually long consultation with Lord Stamfordham, which must almost certainly have been in reference to arrangements for the removal of the king to the seashore.

Although no date has yet been fixed for this journey to Bognor, it is understood that the physicians now are hoping that within a day or two the patient may be allowed to sit up in bed if his present rate of progress continues unimpeded. The weather still is exceedingly cold and it is not unlikely that it may be considered advisable to wait for milder conditions before risking the journey.

FRANCIS M. BROWN, MIAMI CAPITALIST, TAKES OWN LIFE

Miami, Fla., January 27.—(P)—Francis M. Brown, 45, prominent Miami, was found dead in his home tonight after, police believe, he had taken his own life with an automatic rifle.

The body, found by members of his family when they returned from an afternoon at Miami Beach, was sitting on the floor with his back to a chair. Death was the result of a bullet wound in the neck. Beside the body was the rifle, with one shot discharged.

MEMPHIS PASTOR ACCEPTS CALL OF MACON CHURCH

Macon, Ga., January 27.—(P)—Dr. Ernest F. Campbell, pastor of the Temple Baptist church at Memphis, Tenn., was called to the pastorate of the Tattall Square Baptist church here this morning.

Tattall Square church is located on the Mercer university campus, where Dr. Campbell graduated in 1914. He had just finished his theological course at Newton Center, Mass., when he became an army chaplain in the world war.

BLEYER TO ADDRESS GEORGIA PRESS GROUP

Wisconsin "U" Journalism Director Accepts Invitation To Speak at Athens.

Athens, Ga., January 27.—(Special).—Dr. Willard Grosvenor Bleyer, director of the School of Journalism of the University of Wisconsin, has accepted an invitation to give a series of three lectures on newspaper technique at the Georgia Press institute, to be held on the University of Georgia campus February 20-22. The institute is sponsored by the Georgia Press association, and the Henry W. Grady School of Journalism is acting as host this year.

Dr. Bleyer, an outstanding teacher of journalism, is a former president of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism and is the present chairman of the council on education for journalism. He is author of several standard textbooks on journalism, and founded the courses in journalism at Wisconsin about 25 years ago.

Assisting Dr. Bleyer in instruction at the institute will be Dean S. V. Sanford, Professor John E. Drewry, and Mrs. M. H. Bryan of the University of Georgia journalism faculty; John D. Allen and Mrs. Willie Snow Ethridge of Mercer university; Miss Virginia Garner of Wesleyan college; Professor George M. Sparks, of Georgia Tech; Professor R. B. Nixon, of Emory university; Dr. W. F. Melton, of Oglethorpe university; and Dr. R. L. Brantley, of Bessie Tift college.

The meeting is planned to bring practicing newspaper men and women of Georgia together for lectures by prominent journalists, classroom work, and round-table discussion. The class work will be directed by teachers of journalism in the state and classes will be held in the new Commerce-Journalism building.

Dr. H. W. Chase, president of the University of North Carolina, will deliver the George Washington day address for the university and the editors.

The three southern editors who have won Pulitzer prizes for public service and for editorials of distinction have been invited to attend the institute. The editors are Robert Latham, Asheville (N. C.) Citizen; Julian Harris, Columbus (Ga.) Enquirer-Sun; and Grover Cleveland Hall, Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser.

Plans include a reception Wednesday evening, February 20 at War Memorial hall. Class work begins Thursday. A luncheon will be given by President Andrew M. Soule of the State College of Agriculture Thursday at noon, and other luncheons and evening entertainments are to be arranged later.

Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, and Scribes, journalism club for women, will have charge of one of the evening programs.

Prominent out-of-the-state journalists have been invited and their acceptances will be announced soon.

GREAT CARE USED IN MANUFACTURE OF COLONIAL BREAD

Coincidental with the opening of the new plant of the Lee Baking company at 211 Moreland avenue, the president of the company, A. B. Lee, issued a statement explaining the care taken in making Colonial bread.

One of the most important factors in the process of making the bread is the care used in the selection of materials, he says. Each carload of material is submitted to a thorough examination by experts in a specially equipped laboratory, to insure cleanliness and high quality. As another safeguard, each employee, Mr. Lee states, is examined by competent doctors before he is allowed to work in the plant, thus guarding against any possible contamination of the product from this source.

In summing up the company's policy, Mr. Lee says: "The product, Colonial bread, has been surrounded in its manufacture by all of the infinite care known to latest methods. We are seriously engaged in the manufacture of a product of the very highest nutritive value; we are seeking confidence and public approbation for this product, but we are seeking, first, to deserve this confidence."

Lost Pep—Growing Old?

Live Your Liver And Feel Young

Most of your ills and troubles are caused by a sluggish, half-alive liver. Your bowels are lined with poisonous waste, causing aches, pains, drowsiness, nervousness, and a general bilious condition.

Take Dr. Tutt's Pills for a few days and see how quickly they will act to bring back that refreshed, vigorous feeling that makes life worth the living.—(adv.)

First in Georgia

Of all the companies writing workmen's compensation insurance in Georgia the American Mutual ranks first in volume of workmen's compensation premiums written.

To Georgia policyholders the American Mutual paid last year a total of $76,875.76 representing $22 out of every $100 they paid for compensation and automobile insurance. For forty-two years without interruption the American Mutual has paid yearly dividends of at least 20% . . . a record of saving, stability and service.

Workmen's Compensation

If your competitors could buy every product at 20% less than you must pay, the result most assuredly would spell disaster. Yet many of your competitors in Georgia have saved $20 or more on each $100 spent on Workmen's Compensation Insurance.

This, the strongest, largest and oldest mutual liability insurance company in the world, has saved its policyholders thousands of dollars . . . and it has given them quick, efficient service.

As a part of its service, American Mutual engineers study your particular problems . . . for one group of several hundreds of manufacturers they have brought about reduction in "lost time accidents" averaging 49.8% and in "days lost per employee" averaging 53.8%.

Write for a list of our policyholders in Georgia—let them tell you about American Mutual service, stability, and saving . . . just fill out the coupon in the lower left hand corner.

Automobile Insurance

Accidents do not happen . . . they are caused . . . and the chief causes are known. From a study of thousands of cases, the American Mutual found that 90% of all accidents can be avoided.

Whether you own one pleasure car or a fleet of trucks, you are anxious to avoid accidents . . . the American Mutual can help you.

The American Mutual has worked with truck fleets that have averaged one accident every 4,000 miles. Our engineers have instituted systems of safety that have improved these records to the extent that some of these fleets now average one accident every 150,000 miles.

American Mutual policyholders have enjoyed this service . . . and at the same time they have saved at least $20 out of every $100 spent for automobile insurance. Send for "The Man at the Wheel" . . . a booklet that will help you avoid accidents . . . just mail the coupon in the lower right hand corner.

Married Woman Eats Only Baby Food

"For 3 years I ate only baby food, anything else caused stomach gas. Now, thanks to Adlerika, I eat everything and enjoy life."—Mrs. M. Gunn.

Adlerika, a simple glycerin, buckthorn bark, saline compound, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out foul matter you would never believe was in your system. This old matter may have poisoned you for months and caused GAS, sour stomach, headache or nervousness.

Try this simple proof: Take any medicine which acts on lower bowel only—most laxatives do. After your bowels have moved, take Adlerika and in a short time you will be astonished at how much MORE sour, old matter and GAS is brought out! Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adlerika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

Give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika and see how good you feel! Just ONE spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. At leading druggists. Send for FREE checkerboard. ADLERIKA, Dept. L-37, St. Paul, Minn.—(adv.)

OKLAHOMA SOLONS REST BEFORE BATTLE

Governor's Secretary Yet Uncalled in Impeachment Proceedings.

Oklahoma City, Okla., January 27. —(P)—With Henry S. Johnston suspended from the governor's office pending the outcome of charges now before a senate impeachment court, Oklahoma legislators spent today in speculation as to what the future may hold and in thumbing over the pages of one of the most hectic weeks of political sharpshooting the state has known.

Prominent in the gossip were possible revelations from the scheduled appearance before a house investigating committee of Mrs. O. O. Hammonds, Johnston's aggressive and determined little confidential secretary, who, from the administration content, has dominated the official acts of the state's chief executive.

Stop That Cough Quick!

Famous Prescription Has A Double Action.

The phenomenal success of a famous doctor's prescription called Throxine is due to its double action. It immediately soothes the irritation and goes direct to the internal cause not reached by patent medicines and cough syrups. The very first swallow usually relieves even the most obstinate cough.

Throxine contains no chloroform, dope or other dangerous drugs. Safe and pleasant for the whole family. Also excellent for sore throat. Quick relief or your money back. 35c. 60c. and $1.00. Sold by Jacobs' Drug Co., and all other good drug stores. (adv.)

WASTE ELECTRIC LIGHT?

We should say NOT!

No more than you should waste anything else.

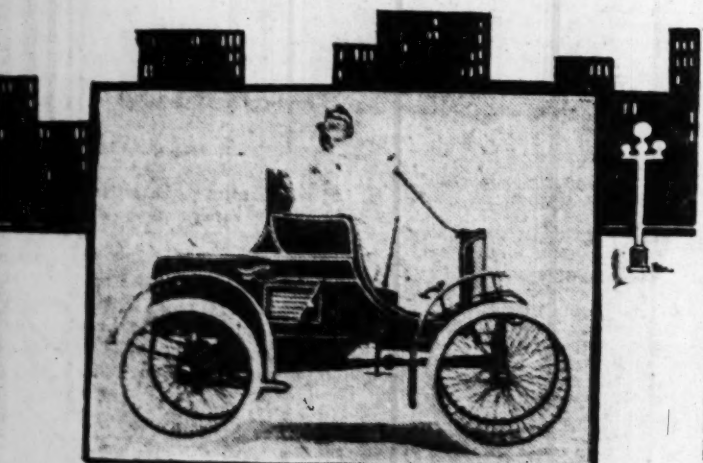

But, under the new rates you can afford to use it generously.

The comfort, the joy and happiness, the liberal use of electric light will bring will more than compensate for its cost.

There's no reason under the new rates why anyone should deny himself the full use of electricity in his home.

active forces in the house committee's investigation, added weight to another theory that she was being kept from the witness stand until his return, so that he might aid in questioning her.

Although committee members were silent, officially, individually they were loud in their declarations that Mrs. Hammonds would be called.

Research Council Asking for Data On Earth Tremor

A news story, published in The Constitution on November 3, 1928, describing an earthquake that was felt by many people in Atlanta on the night of November 2, has received the praise of the national research council, of Washington, D. C., as being the most informative article, from a news and scientific standpoint, published about the occurrence.

This is brought out in a letter received by Dr. S. W. McCallie, Georgia state geologist, in which the council says that the story in The Constitution "mentions several things of decided interest as having happened in Atlanta."

However, the council is desirous of securing more information about the tremor of November 2 and officials have asked Dr. McCallie for a painstaking investigation to obtain this data. Dr. McCallie, in seeking this additional data, asked The Constitution to continue the work it began so well and aid him in getting the information needed.

Many persons in Atlanta reported, after the quake, that furniture in their homes had been perceptibly moved and that the "buildings had been jolted."

HUSBAND REFUSES TO QUIT CHECKERS, WIFE USES PISTOL

Nashville, Tenn., January 27. —(P)—Enraged because her husband left her alone to play checkers with Mrs. Hugh Andrews, Mrs. B. N. Cox, 35, shot Mrs. Andrews four times this afternoon. She was not expected to live.

The husband of Mrs. Andrews was watching the game when Mrs. Cox entered and started shooting after her husband had refused to leave the game, police were told.

Mrs. Cox left the house immediately after the shooting, hailed a passing automobile, and was driven to the police station, where she surrendered.

She told State Investigator Ted Vaughan that her husband had been "neglecting her" for five years. Andrews said he considered Cox "a real friend" and that, so far as he knew, Cox had never visited his home while he was away.

VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH NEAR DEATH, PHYSICIANS STATE

Struck down by an automobile while he was alighting from a street car at Lee street and Avon avenue, G. K. Sewell, 50, of 450 Tenth street, was probably fatally injured late Sunday afternoon. Police are holding W. B. Smith, 38 Capitol square, driver of the car, on charges of reckless driving.

Police reports say Sewell was leaving an East Point trolley, southbound, when he was struck by Smith's automobile, which was going north on Lee street.

Sewell was rushed to Grady hospital, where doctors said his injuries probably would prove fatal.

THE COOLIDGE EPOCH.

The army and navy reception of Thursday evening at the white house in Washington was the last of the formal functions of the Coolidge incumbency as president of the nation. The occasion was brilliant, and was accompanied by many congratulations and many regrets.

Mrs. Coolidge was moved to tears as her closest friends remarked the conclusion of her high social duties.
She showed glistering eyes because of the personal partings—not because she is soon to leave the executive mansion, for she has wished for that for a long time past.

The president was characteris-tically unexpressive concerning the coming evacuation. As for congratulations, President Coolidge is entitled to them in more than ordinary measure. Partisanship cannot deny to him the credit of having suddenly succeeded to a tremendously difficult situation and with having handled it with remarkable delicacy and success.

Mr. Coolidge has not been a spectacular and sensational chief executive. He has not been dramatic like Roosevelt; grammatic and epigrammatic like Wilson; nor insouciant and easily steered like Harding. On the contrary, he has been cool to the extent of an epithet and cautious in calculating the rightness and effects of his executive actions.

It will be a part inseparable from his presidential record that he was solid, sane and safe in his efforts to conserve and promote the public welfare. And in the present state of public affairs and opinion to have earned such credit is no small achievement.

THE PARDONING POWER.

The recent case of Shumaker in Indiana has stirred considerable and cogent comments in legal circles and prints throughout the country.
Shumaker is superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Indiana. In his capacity as editor of the state organ of the league he published criticisms reflecting upon the conduct of the state supreme court in dealing with certain liquor law violations that caused the attorney general of the state to move the court to cite Shumaker for "contempt of the court." After many fencings and delays the court adjudged Shumaker guilty and sentenced him to 60 days upon the state's penal farm and to pay a heavy fine.

Since there was no federal question for Shumaker to raise by habeas corpus or otherwise in the federal courts, he went to the farm to begin service of his sentence.
But at the gates of the farm he was met by a full pardon from the governor of the state and was at once set at liberty.

Whereupon the attorney general petitioned the court to declare the pardon ineffective on the ground that the governor had no right to pardon any person under a sentence for contempt of court. The court agreed to that and ordered Shumaker back to the penal farm.

Without reference to whatever injustice or hardship is thus imposed upon Shumaker, the case brings up a number of questions very vital to the rights of citizens, not alone in Indiana, but everywhere throughout the country.

The chief interest, however,
centers upon the constitutional prerogative of the chief magistrate—
the president or a governor—the nation or a state, to pardon for any offense not excepted by the constitution. The federal constitution gives the president the power to pardon without limit, except in cases of impeachment, and it was ruled by the supreme court in Garland's case that "the benign prerogative of mercy cannot be fettered by any legislative restrictions."

Hence the question arises, if the legislative branch cannot restrict him, by what argument can the right of the judicial branch to do so be supported?

CUBA THREATENS DIVORCE.

While the ways and means committee of congress is considering the sugar tariff for the near future, Ambassador Ferrara, of Cuba, utters comments that sound in the notes of a threat. He avers that tariff rates which would make the marketing of the Cuban sugar crops in the United States less profitable than now might lead Cuba to eliminate the Platt amendment from the treaty stipulations between the two nations.

When the United States returned the government of Cuba to her own chosen administrators the Platt amendment stipulated certain national duties by Cuba in order to prevent the need of a future intervention by this country, and Cuba constitutionalized those duties.

If our recollection of the record is not essentially ajar, Senor Ferrera, in the days of the intervention and occupation by the United States to prevent anarchy in the island, was a bold and fierce opponent of the proceedings there by our government. In the mutations of thirty years he has come to the prominence of being his country's ambassador at Washington.

It is to be hoped that he is not suffering from a throw-back to his former antagonism to the pacific and benevolent cooperations between the Cuban people and ours, who broke the Spanish yoke from the necks of the Cubans and established them with independence and self-government.

Most Americans are quite willing that the prosperity of the Cubans shall be amicably considered in any measures of legislation mutually affecting the two peoples, but the Cubans cannot reasonably claim the privilege of overtaxing our people
for their country's profit.

If that is to be the price of the Platt amendment's life, then let Cuba kill it at her will.

SCIENTIFIC SCRAPPERS.

Science is entitled to all due and proper respect when it can meet the challenge of Sidney Lanier and clearly "prove that science is." But that is the major job in which the scientists labor, for no one is obligated to believe that something is so simply because a scientist says it so.

Recently some "sills have been unearthed whose age some scientists say is seventy millions years while other scientists as confidently declare them not more than seven million years old. The discrepancy of their figures is just that amazing.
And the fact may yet be found that they are probably not seven hundred years old.

It has not been more than a lifetime of an average person that the learned scientists of Europe were pondering solemnly over the fragment of a skull and figuring its age as that of a prehistoric man.
Finally, however, they agreed that the proofs revealed it as actually the knee-cap of an elephant of a post-diluvian era.

One can speak as easily of seventy millions years as of seven years, but the seven-year talker is hampered by absolute records and memories, while the seventy million years man has the whole realm of imagination for his own.

The reason why the average man does not trouble to distinguish between the authority of the two talkers is that so-called scientific data about the age of the world and how it came into its shape, solidity and dressing has no practical interest for him or influence upon his instincts and actions. The big inclusive interest for him is that he is now here and it is up to his own wits to make the most of today for the betterment of tomorrow.

All this "scientific speculation" and non-provable mathematics are so wholly unrelated to the omnipresent bread and butter problem that few of us care the snap of our fingers how the alleged scientists carry on their guessing matches.

A fashion note tells us that creps will be popular this spring. That's what comes from women being too
free with firearms.

Congress has again declined to allow a cartoon to be printed in the Congressional Record. It's a poor sort of a humorous magazine.

One gets as weary at well-doing as being well-done.

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY

HUMIDITY FOR HEALTH.

This seems a good time to reassert the belief, which, of course, is incapable of proof, that damp walls,
a damp cellar under the house, or the absence of a cellar, or an accumulation of water in the basement, in short,
anything that you may conceive under the heading of dampness, is not a factor of ill health. Damp living rooms, damp bedrooms, damp bedding or damp clothing may be uncomfortable,
but will never injure anybody's health or render one more susceptible to pneumonia, "rheumatism," whatever that is, or to tuberculosis, malaria, bronchitis or other illness.

Everybody knows that the weather feels colder, or, as we say, the cold is "penetrating," when the humidity is comparatively high, when the air is damp, and on the other hand, the cold
does not feel so cold if it is fairly dry.
Zero or sub-zero temperatures in a comparatively dry climate or place are not so cold to one's feeling, as "chilling" as temperatures ten or twenty degrees higher in climates or places where there is more moisture in the air.

Water vapor in the atmosphere is a good heat conductor compared with dry air. The body heat is more easily dissipated to the surrounding air when the air is moist.

In a hot climate the heat is less depressing, easier to endure if the air is fairly dry; with increasing moisture or humidity the tropical climate becomes more oppressive. The same principle is involved—water vapor in the air conducts the heat from the body,
but it hinders evaporation of the sweat and thus the moisture in the air interferes in the cooling of the body, or the dis-
ipation of body heat.

Any householder who installs an effective means of evaporating water in the air in the winter time or when the dwelling is artificially heated soon discovers that everybody feels comfortable at a more moderate temperature
and that the moisture in the air interferes in the cooling of the body, or the dis-
ipation of body heat.

A household temperature of 65 to 68 feels as comfortable, indeed, more balmy and less chilly, to grandpa, uncle and the girls than did temperatures of 72 to 75 before the humidity was corrected. If this does not seem consistent with the explanation just given, the best way to settle the question for yourself is, try it in your own household.

The ideal installation is built in and automatic. This costs something and is worth all its costs if one is building a home of health. Most people must resort to ordinary schemes for providing desirable humidity in the air.

Unless a substantial quantity of water is evaporated daily it is scarcely worth while; people should not be misled into thinking that a mere gallon or two of water evaporated in a dwelling, no matter how tiny, can be of any appreciable service; for an ordinary dwelling it is necessary to evaporate thirty to sixty gallons of water daily in order to maintain the humidity at even a fair level when the air is heated to 68. This is accomplished by simple pans of water, with many folds of thick wicking suspended over and dipping into the water. Mere open pans of water will not evaporate so effectively.

Besides saving on the winter's fuel bill moisture in the air keeps everybody's temper a complexion smooth and is kind to mucous membranes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Remedy for Ivy Poisoning.
Mrs. L. B. reports that after a painful experience she found a simple remedy that brought relief for her ivy poisoning. This was prescribed by an old-fashioned country doctor. The remedy was may have been old-fashioned and a mere country doctor, but evidently he knows his pharmacology.

He directed the sufferer to keep the inflamed skin wet with a strong solution of Epsom salts. She kept white stockings on her arms, saturated with the solution. It worked like magic. Mr. H. says she has since resorted to the remedy several times when she happened to come in contact with poison ivy, but she has never suffered another attack of such severity. She adds that common yellow laundry soap, if applied as a lather immediately after exposure will prevent the eruption of poison ivy.

Answer—Both remedies are good.
Another that has been praised by many victims, is a lotion made by mixing equal quantities of tincture of iron chloride and water. The inflamed patches sopped gently on the inflamed patches once or twice a day.

They Do Some Things Differently

Abroad.
A woman who has recently
come from Westphalia, Germany, tells me her mother nursed a family of six children until they were seven years old, and the youngest boy, was nursed until he was eight years old. In the same town they bury their dead in paper shirts, plain wood coffins which are sometimes painted and the shavings of the boards are put under the head and filled in around the body.

Answer—Here in America, at least,
we find that nursing over a year is a strain on the health of the mother and even the child. The nutrition of the child is impaired. I admit and respect the Westphalian simplicity about burial. We might well follow the example here in this land of extravagance and headstrong display.

Nervus or Birthmark.
Some time ago some one asked you what to do for a red spot in the skin. You told it was nervus and said that it could be removed by operation. What causes nervus?
There's no use paying to have them removed when you'll get a new one more.—(F. H.)

Answer—Nervus is a mark, mole or spot present at birth or becoming apparent in the first few weeks of life.
One surgical method, or another, will

Another Batch of Pick-Ups Relating To Hoover and His Hand-Outs

Washington, January 27.—(Special).—The hopes of many ambitious Republicans have gone journeying to Florida, riding the "blind baggage" of the train that took Hoover to President-elect Hoover for his pre-inaugural immunization at the Baptist Hospital, Miami Beach.
During his conference here Mr.
Hoover discovered with anxious concern that the most independent-spirited persons for placement in the areas with which they are personally concerned, cannot be trusted. The partisanism of the party is a t chaperoned him to his office and obligations.

If his past cabinet experience had not made that fact plain to him he has now had it brought home to him by the influential leaders of his party
in an out of congress.
Plenty of signs have come to the surface these last days that he is strongly impressed by his partisan obligations and intends to "play ball" with the strong men who control the party and its conduct.

Will Have Personal Policy.

That does not mean that as president he will be only the pawn of the party dictators. Not by a whole lot!
Hoover has distinct and grounded ideas of what for and how the president of the United States should be in the air in the winter time or when the dwelling is artificially heated soon discovers that everybody feels comfortable at a more moderate temperature
and that the moisture in the air interferes in the cooling of the body, or the dis-
ipation of body heat.

Most of Mr. Hoover's past objectives have to do with making government more scientific and effective, simplified and economical, and much less costly. He desires, however, to it is admitted by the politicians, within the borders of executive authority.
In accomplishing many of the reforms of administration he desires, which will not have to apply for the aid or consent of congress. What he will need is cabinet aids like-minded with himself and willing to faithfully carry out his instructions.

The Tone of Main Troubles.
The zone in which Hoover ideas will run against heavy obstructions is that in which congress has set up a swarm of committees and sub-committees and commissions which take their authority and regulations from congress, are responsible to it alone, and can stretch over these trusts of power
executive of the president.

Congress can create as many such independent agencies as it likes and steal away large areas of authority and power heretofore considered exclusively of the executive department.
In plain terms, we are more and more now drifting—well, not drifting,
but being designedly steered—into government by congress, with congress governed by arbitrary committees.

Such was not the plan of government which the framers of the constitution believed could be done. But modern majorities on the bench of the federal supreme court have found rubber enough in the charter to make it
stretch over these trusts of power
from one department to another.

A Course of Conciliation.
With a new congress on his hands
at the outset of his administration and new ideas of his long and its wheels oiled and adjusted to satisfactory cooperation. Mr. Hoover intends to pursue a policy of accommodation, and conciliation when needed to do his work.

So far as his cabinet is concerned
he has let it be understood that, while

New York, January 27.—Perhaps the most successful speak-easy in New York must go nameless here for obvious reasons. But its system of clicking rates attention. It caters to a high-class patronage, most of the customers being members of the better clubs. The Harvard and Yale club members, frantically, get in your hair.
It closes at 1 a. m. right on the dot.

can make the owner keep open a second later. His liquor is the best.
The prices are reasonable and you never witness a quarrel or fist fight.
"Because," explained the proprietor, "we never permit a woman to come in."

NEWSPAPERMAN STUFF?
One of the speeches in Jed Harris' smash hit, "Front Page," which has been a success since it was first uttered by Hildy, the scooper-magner who plans deserting the game, but doesn't when a big story breaks.
"Who wants to work on a newspaper?
A lot of crabs, full of mud and drain and bum and they wheedle out of aldermen. Journalists! Peeking through keyholes; running after fire engines and following the body through the night to ask them what they think of Mussolini. A lot of lousy, daffy bunk and nonsense. I don't want to be in their pants, borrowing nickels from office boys! And for what? So a million hired girls and motormen's wives'll know what's going on?"
Golly!

THE WAY OF A MAN.
He perished with one of the big liners many years ago. Before his death he fell madly in love with a show girl for whom he once engaged occupy valuable space. This is especially true in old cities.
In the older cities of the east, it has been necessary to dig up long-buried bones from large tracts, and move them farther out. The land was needed for the living.
In New York, many of the larger public squares and small parks were formerly cemeteries. In Charleston, S. C., it has been necessary to level off an old cemetery and make a playground of it. It is essential that the living have room to work and play, whatever about the dead.

Since the advent of the motor car,
it is possible to place graveyards farther out. But still the dead press in upon the crowded living. Cities reach out and cemeteries die. It is valuable. Nobody welcomes a new cemetery in his neighborhood.
In New York, one almost never now, does it?

he will fairly consider all persons influentially suggested to him, he intends to have a cabinet entirely satisfying to himself. He does not want a patchwork cabinet, part of it composed of highly practical men and part made up of men who are distinguished chiefly as political caromplayers. And on that he can stand that not only a sane majority could back him by refusing to confirm his nominees.

As to other high federal and state-confirmed appointments, he will be more liberal and dependent upon representative republicans to recommend suitable persons for placement in the areas with which they are personally concerned. By this fair method the new president will hope to maintain the good favor of his party in general.

What He Hopes From Congress.
It comes to this observer on a straight line that Mr. Hoover is hoping for three main things to be done
by congress in extra session.
The first is that a measure for farm relief that will be constructive and immediately helpful shall be enacted with becoming promptness. On that subject, which he holds in great importance, he will state his views with plainness and precision in his inaugural address. When he shall have done this, he will be in a position to make a start. The farmers of the nation will know with definiteness
the manner of relief measure he will approve.

He will also expound his foundational plan of the sort of tariff the country needs to protect its industries, labor and agricultural interests. He is an American protectionist from conviction.

His third hope is that congress will refrain from any course of legislation that will burden business initiative, interfere with full production, and impose new taxation upon the capital and labor of the masses of the nation.

CENSUS ENUMERATION PRO-POSED FOR UNEMPLOY-MENT DATA.

BY ETHELBERT STEWART.

Federal Statistics.
(Ethelbert Stewart was born at Chicago, Ill., April 22, 1875. He was educated in the public and high schools of Chicago, and graduated from the University of Chicago in 1897. He was United States bureau of labor in 1897
after having been editor of several papers. He has been United States commissioner of labor statistics since 1920.)

I have urged the necessity for a census of the employed and unemployed as a fundamental basis from which to begin the solution of the problems thereby presented.

With a census of unemployment,
the bureau could apply the index of unemployment to the total number of unemployed at any given time.

With the information now at hand,
all the bureau of labor statistics can do is estimate shrinkages in employment in established industries.

On January 1, 1929, 79,000 more people were employed in those established industries than on January 1, 1928, a reduction in shrinkage of 4.2 per cent.

An unemployed person, usually employed, at present out of work and waiting for a job. This definition cuts out the unemployed who present a sociological problem and for whom industry is not immediately responsible.

That the question is local or for the state does not appeal to me. Unemployment is a world problem.
While the causes of unemployment, one-half mile from Fifth avenue, is the most densely populated district in the world, including India and China, with 500,000 persons to the square mile.
At least it is for the federal government to provide the basic information from which to make a start.

The analogy between the situation in New York city and a cancer on the lip of a man which will destroy the man if he leaves it for the lip to take care of.
While the causes for unemployment might be local, the absorption of that unemployment was national. Take the case of a copper company which personnel who have been in the man from 610 pounds to 2,005 pounds, hence reducing employment from over 800 to less than 200. At the same time the output was increased from 3,000,000 to 15,318,000 pounds per month.

Who absorbed the men?
Only a census can aid us in determining what has become of them.

HOOVER AND SMITH

The defeated democratic candidate will spend much of his time while in this section swimming and playing golf. Tuesday he will attend the races at the "loose track" of the Miami Jockey club as the guest of Mr. Smoot.

Mann To Be Visitor.
The president-elect hopes during his stay in Florida to be able to so arrange his schedule as to give to the three days each week to necessary conferences and work and to spend the remaining time fishing. He is in Florida, however, to see to it that he will make the most of the time intervening before he must assume the arduous work of the presidency.

He probably will make his first visit to his executive office on Monday tomorrow and to receive there as many as possible of those now in this section who desire to talk to him.
The same program will be followed Tuesday before he boards a train for Long Key.

Horace A. Mann, who had charge of campaign work in a number of states, and of those who is expected to call. It was stated today on behalf of Mr. Hoover, however, that there would be no discussion of politics.

While the president-elect is nearly as disappointed about his failure to land a sailfish last week as some of his friends had expected him to be. He took the loss of two such fish he looked upon as a disaster. He is telling to friends that it was all in the run of fishing luck.

Fight With Sailfish.

Those who saw the president-elect in his unsuccessful effort to land the two sailfish he hooked give graphic descriptions of the battles. The first fish, estimated to have been about six feet long, stood on its tail, the water and shore its head vigorously, trying to lose the hook, and failing in that,
threw about, leaping sometimes several feet in the air. The line finally parted, and the fish went free.

The battle with the second one was much the same, only this time it was the leader that the big fish was able to catch and gain his freedom. Every time the fish made his head and fins or sails, which rose a foot or more from their backs, flashed beautiful shades of purple and lavender.

Scotland Yard for States Is New Departure in Fight On Crime in United States

Governor Roosevelt Is Impressed With Possibilities; Asks New York Survey.

Albany, N. Y., January 27.—(United News).—A central detective force for every state in the union modeled on the famous Scotland Yard system and available for any crime that requires special training, has been suggested by the national crime commission's executive committee, it was revealed tonight.

So important does Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt regard the suggestion that, chairman of the state crime commission, to investigate and report regarding its desirability.

If Baumes reports favorably, Roosevelt plans to lay before the legislature at its present session a bill which would provide New York state with a Scotland Yard of its own.

Baumes, one of the country's great experts on crime conditions, is the author of the widely known Baumes law that has become a terror to criminals. Its main provision is a mandatory life sentence for habitual criminals—in the law defined as one who has been convicted three times previously for serious offenses.

MERCER PAPER HONORS ATLANTA JOURNALIST

BY HOWARD LEONARD.
Macon, Ga., January 27.—(Special).—The college record of W. Courtland Gilbert, Atlanta newspaperman, was brought to light last week in the alumni edition of the Mercer Cluster, student newspaper of Mercer university here. Gilbert left Mercer in September of last year, and is now assistant manager of the Atlanta office of the United News.

Joe R. Bobbitt, cluster staff writer, learning of Mr. Gilbert's rapid promotion in the newspaper world, looked into the records of student activities at Mercer and concluded that what one does in college foreshadows his career in after life. Mr. Bobbitt thereupon wrote an article for the special edition of his college paper.

Gilbert came to Mercer from Brunswick, Ga., where he covered sports for the News of that town. He became a reporter of the Cluster in his freshman year and remained with the student publication until he left school, becoming editor in the early part of 1928. He also did editorial work on the Cauldron, Mercer yearbook, and was president of the Newspaper club. According to the Cluster writer, Gilbert "belonged to everything except the faculty."

While in college, Mr. Gilbert was Macon correspondent for the United News. He covered Mercer sports and big news breaks.

Last summer Mr. Gilbert went to work in the Atlanta office of the press association. For a few weeks he was "fanned out" to the Toccoa (Ga.) Record, returning to Atlanta to become assistant manager of the U. N. office.

WATER BOY KING APPOINTS ROYAL BROTHER PREMIER

Peshawar, British India, January 27.—(P).—Information reaching here is that Kahluddin, a step-brother of Amanullah, deposed king of Afghanistan, has been made premier in the new cabinet of Habibullah Khan, the country's new king.

It is said also that Amanullah has decided not to attempt to regain his throne for himself, although there is some doubt as to just what his intentions are.

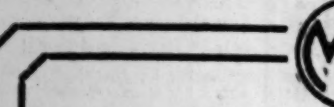

The new Afghan cabinet is said to be composed exclusively of members of the Mohmand clan, to which Amanullah himself belongs.

MARSHALL OUTLINES PROBLEMS OF JEWS

Urges Revival of Childhood Instruction in Religious Literature.

Before a crowd which taxed the capacity of the temple on Pryor street, Louis Marshall, of New York, nationally-known lawyer and leader of the Jewish people, Sunday night opened the district B'nai B'rith convention with a stirring appeal to his people to meet squarely the problems now confronting them.

The problem first classified and dealt with by Mr. Marshall was the question of Jewish people's responsibility to preserve their traditions, their culture and more particularly their religion.

To this end he urged the revival of childhood instruction in religious literature and practice and the pursuit of some educational program whereby children may be familiarized with the long history of the people and their faith.

He next turned to the question of the American Jews' obligation to their less fortunate brothers of Europe. Russia and Poland in particular. He commended the fine spirit of generosity which made possible the raising of $80,000,000 for relief when those people were threatened with destruction during and immediately after the world war but reminded that the work is not yet completed, and must be carried forward to its logical conclusion.

The final question upon which he touched was that of Palestine. Outlining the work which already has been done in reclaiming this land for the Jews he told of the movement which only now is getting under way whereby Zionists and non-Zionists are being brought together in the common cause of the scientific upbuilding of Palestine into a fruitful and happy seat of Jewish learning, life and culture.

Following an organ solo by Professor Charles A. Sheldon, Jr., J. S. Brail, president of the local B'nai B'rith lodge, opened the meeting by introducing Rabbi I. L. Freund, of Goldsboro, N. C., who gave the invocation. Joseph N. Reisman, head of the local committees on arrangements, then welcomed the delegates to the 54th convention of the grand lodge, fifth district of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith. Response to this welcome was given by Joseph A. Wilner, of Washington, D. C., president of the district grand lodge. Mr. Elyea Carswell then sang a solo, after which Henry A. Alexander, of Atlanta, introduced the eminent lawyer and chief speaker, Rabbi Freund.

Delegates today are faced with a schedule which calls for a business session at the Biltmore at 10 o'clock, a luncheon at the Biltmore at noon, followed by a bridge reception for the visiting ladies. At 8 o'clock the convention banquet and ball will be held at the Biltmore. Sessions will continue through Tuesday.

Smith Disrupts Welcome Plans By Church Visit

Coral Gables, Fla., January 27.—(P).—His desire to attend church, a natural inclination to eat, and indulgence in nine holes of golf today caused former Governor Al Smith, of New York, to knock the plans of various welcoming committees and forces out of kilter.

As the train bearing the former governor and candidate for president stopped at Miami station, a welcoming party advanced to the car, to extend the good wishes of Miami and its surrounding cities.

The former governor stepped from the car, and smiled at the committee. The head man of the welcome shook hands and started his address of greeting.

"Excuse me, please," Mr. Smith, still smiling, interrupted him, "but I am already late for church."

And he entered a car which took him to 10 o'clock mass. The committee dispersed.

Meanwhile, a second delegation to greet the guest took its stand at the Miami Biltmore hotel, in Coral Gables, where it was expected that he would come from church.

After an hour or so the committee dispatched a courier to find the reason for delay in arrival, only to be informed that Mr. Smith had returned to his private car, where he was eating. The group stood its ground, as did two photographers, posted on stepladders at the sunbathed entrance to Coral Gables, and newsmen and other photographers at the hotel.

At 1:30 o'clock it was reported that the tardy guest would start for the hotel shortly, but at 2:30 the committee and photographers gave it up as a bad job, and a fashion review at the hotel's swimming pool, held up pending Mr. Smith's arrival, was started. Later, word came that he was going to come between 4 o'clock and 4:30, but this was proved incorrect when someone telephoned the hotel that Mr. Smith was playing golf in Miami Beach, and that he would not arrive until after 7 o'clock.

This time, the report was correct.

BORDER PATROL FEARS REPORTER KIDNAPED

Officials Advance Theories of Ransom and Dope Ring
in Mystery.

Laredo, Texas, January 27.—(P).—The nation's Mexican border patrol and immigration officers, joining the local constabulary in an extensive search for Harry Williams, "missing" young Laredo newspaperman, today mulled over two related and somewhat sinister clues as to his disappearance.

More than 350 officers, with long knowledge of the border from Arizona to Brownsville, Texas, held two theories. One, that Williams had been mistaken for the son of A. L. Kitzelman, Indiana millionaire, kidnaped by bandits seeking ransom, later beaten and released after discovery that he was not related to Mr. Kitzelman. The other concerned the possibility that he had been "doped" and attacked for some purpose and subsequently thrown from an automobile to find his way out of the surrounding semi-wild country.

American immigration and border authorities joined the hunt Saturday on the order of Carl White, first assistant to the secretary of labor at Washington.

The 24-year-old reporter disappeared unaccountably from this border town across the Rio Grande from Mexico more than a week ago. Official aid was not asked until friends had exhausted every resource in a private search for him.

Indian Girl Pays Penalty for Wearing Bathing Outfit

Miami, Fla., January 27.—(P).—Rosalee Billie, 10-year-old Seminole belle, has paid for her desire to dress after the modes of her "white sisters." Rosalee returned to the Mesa Isle Indian camp here last night after a six months' exile into the fastness of the Everglades, imposed by an Indian tribal trial. Rosalee's exile was brought about by her adoption of a modern girl's one-piece bathing suit, in which she was adorned when she was found swimming in the Miami river by her father and other tribesmen. Her sentence to exile was passed at the spring court festival last June, after she had been found guilty by medicine men of the tribe of imitating too sincerely the customs of the white girls.

The NEW INTERNATIONAL

New engines—new cabs—new transmissions—new clutches—new hoods and radiators—new roomy bodies. Four wheel brakes on every model.

International Harvester has engineered a remarkable line of heavy-duty models—engineered to the most modern truck standards—completely new, and on view now, in advance of the new year.

These new models have five forward speeds and two reverse, and internal-expanding brakes on all four wheels. These new heavy-duty trucks offer the essential triple combination of great pulling power; speed on the open road; and the ability to stop quickly—three requisites of any heavy service truck.

The new heavy-duty engine is composed of five accessible, easily serviced, self-contained sub-assemblies. It develops great pulling power at low speed. The clutch has a vibration damper. Because they are equipped with the famous "steer-easy" steering gear these new International heavy-duty trucks are easy to drive and maneuver. Double reduction or chain drive models are available. See and try the new International heavy-duty trucks and put them to work for you. You will find them ready for every challenge of the road or load.

Service—there are now 170 Company-owned branches in the United States and Canada.

Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets retained their hold on Southern conference basketball leadership tonight through a hairbreadth victory over Georgia last night at a climax to a week that saw an old favorite return to winning form.

A red headed substitute named Williamson sent into the game when a regular was banished for personal fouls sank a desperate shot in the final half-minute to change the score for the Yellow Jackets when the Bulldogs, Georgia Tech's arch-rival, were toppled by Engineers from the select class. Georgia Tech's victory was a start and at the half led, 23 to 14, but Engineer substitutes brought a punch to the Yellow Jackets in the second half and with the punch victory.

Six Straight Wins.

It was the Jackets' sixth win without a loss, and stamps the Jackets as a real menace.

North Carolina's Tarheels swung out of Chapel Hill to win two games and prove themselves still a threat for the annual tournament that climaxes the conference season. The Tarheels swept Georgia aside with a last-minute finish to win, 31 to 29, and then squared around to beat the Bulldogs by smothering it, 45 to 33, before a home town crowd.

North Carolina ventured out of conference circles to engage Atlanta Athletic club, conquerors of Tech, by 43 to 20, and lost, 18 to 34.

After a long layoff, Alabama's Crimson took to the court to win a pair of victories, turning back Sewanee, 46 to 22, and then nosed out Kentucky, 27 to 26, in a rough struggle to end the week. Alabama's previous foray off foreign soil broke even in a two-game series with Tulane, conquerors of the University of Mississippi.

Washington and Lee continued its victorious march defeating Virginia Poly, 44 to 25, for their third conference win and then the Cavaliers, 41 to 30, for their first win in the conference.

Duke's Green Devils that created a sensation in the conference by defeating Virginia Military Institute, 21 to 10, losing the Cavaliers to the lowest score of the conference season.

Former Champion Will Start Training This Week and if Fit Plans Return for Championship Fight.

Miami Beach, Fla., January 27.—(AP)—William Harrison Dempsey tonight had an anticipatory gleam in his eye as he considered his formal embarkation tomorrow upon the road work which heretofore has in each case meant for him an engagement in the ring with some more or less worthy opponent.

With the road work ahead of him, Dempsey will mix business with pleasure, and intermittently doff the white collar and neat clothing of the promoter for the rough but serviceable apparel that he affects during his training work.

The question of Dempsey's return to the ring is believed to be resting with his opinion of the way which his body accepts the training, and not with the result of the Sharkey-Stribling fight here February 27. He will take to the road with the idea, in the back of his mind at least, of preparing for a comeback to the ring which he may be forced to change his mind if he, as the scientist investigating conditions, finds that he is not able to stand the attacks of training.

He took a short tryout this morning along the beach, the first since his appointment as pilot of the Madison Square Garden corporation's back through the as yet undiscovered sloughs of the elimination bout.

With that angle of the business out of the way, Dempsey was in a position to listen to reports as to special trains from William F. Carey, vice president of the Garden corporation, Carey has been advised by rail officials that the Sharkey-Stribling fight here February 27, will take place at New York, Chicago, Detroit, Atlanta, Macon and New Orleans, and that a road and train combination has been arranged by Cuban fight fans from Havana.

Sharkey's trainer will arrive here Tuesday, according to a telegram received today from the Boston sailor, and will complete training arrangements for Jack's later appearance.

Tickets for the bout at Flamingo park will be ready for distribution upon their arrival here on Tuesday from New York, Dempsey said.

Carey last night set out, locally at least, the impression that the Sharkey-Stribling fight may develop into a draw such as was recorded for the proposed Tanney-Stribling affair here three years ago.

In a signed statement, Carey declared that no one holds any interest in the February 27 fight except the Garden corporation, Jack Dempsey, and the local American Legion post, which is standing as sponsor for the go in accordance with a Florida state law.

Martin Postpones Baseball Session

Memphis, Tenn., January 27.—(AP) John D. Martin, president of the Southern association, announced tonight that by a wire vote of the directors, the schedule meeting of the league set for Birmingham Tuesday, January 28, had been postponed one week.

This action was taken, Mr. Martin explained, out of respect to A. H. Woodward, vice president of the league, a brother-in-law of the late Senator Oscar W. Underwood, who died in Virginia Friday.

Michigan loomed into the undisputed leadership in the championship scramble last week when Wisconsin did the unexpected and toppled Purdue, 32 to 26, in a rough struggle.

Michigan State's on-again-off-again team clinched its fifth straight victory by handing Chicago its fifth straight setback, 40 to 30. The game was played in the matinee, and the home team's victory was a surprise to many.

Northwestern and Iowa turned back invasions of foreign foes in the night and displayed form in doing so. Northwestern edged out Notre Dame, 27 to 24, at Evanston. Iowa had its hands full defeating Creighton, 28 to 20.

PENN CLINGS TO LEAD IN EASTERN TUSSELE. New York, January 27.—(P)—There may not be an answer but Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball league fans would like to know just who is to stop Pennsylvania's smoothly working five from winning its second championship in a row.

With a third of the season completed, Eddie McMichael and blue warriors are leading the parade with three victories in as many starts and there have been few, if any, indications that any rival is equipped to stop the team's march.

The mid-year examinations have forced a ten-day armistice in league warfare so there's plenty of time to mull over the results of first ten games of the 30-game schedule.

Two games during the past week served only to emphasize Penn's strength.

Penn traveled to Princeton on Wednesday and administered a decisive 32-to-22 beating to the Tigers. Yale and Dartmouth staged their second thriller for the season at Hanover on Tuesday night but this time it was the Indians who won, 35 to 34. The Bulldogs won the first clash, 25 to 28.

RECORD IS SET BY MEHLHORN IN TEXAS OPEN

San Antonio, Texas, January 27.—(P)—Wild Bill Mehlhorn, who won the Texas open golf title last year, clipped nine strokes from par on two rounds of the Brackenridge course here today for a total of 277, to retain his crown.

His score was the lowest ever recorded in the event and his first round this morning, a 66, lowered the course record one stroke.

Mehlhorn, who started in the tournament with a 75, improved steadily and withered all opposition with sub-100 scores on his last three rounds. Saturday he shot a 69, two strokes under par and on his final round today he made a 67.

Other brilliant golfers shot consistently good golf but had no opportunity to head the Fenimore, N. Y., pro, Horton Smith, of Joplin, Mo., charged in two 70's today for a 281 and second place. Willard Hutchison, Pasadena, was a stroke behind him for third money and Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., was fourth with 284.

Danny Williams, of Shackamoon, N. J., was fifth; Joe Kirkwood, of Detroit, was sixth; and Al Watrous, of Mehlhorn collected $1,500, the capital prize and $25 for the low round.

Smith won $800, Hutchison $500, Walsh $400 and Williams $300. Kirkwood and Watrous split $350.

23 Divide Money. The remaining money went to the next 23 players, a 208 being the highest score that got in the money. Two amateurs placed well up in the tournament, John Dawson, of Chicago, tying for tenth and Lewis Levinson, of Los Angeles, taking 18th.

Mehlhorn's gallery was treated to a whole aviary of birds. He started on the second hole of the day with a two, added another on the next, lost a stroke at the seventh but regained it at the ninth to turn two under. Coming back he birdied the 14th, 15th, 17th and 18th. On his afternoon round he bagged five birds on the first nine, slipping a stroke over par on one hole, but had little trouble at two holes on the way back, going over par on each of them. He got only one birdie to cancel his loss.

His card for the day: Par 72—Morning round, 444 444 444 444 444—Afternoon, 444 444 444 444 444—Total, 888.

Mehlhorn was the only player who shot in the sixties today. An Espinoza, of Chicago, turned in two 68's; Willard Hutchison a 67; Harry Cooper, of Buffalo, and Billy Burke, of Port Chester, N. Y., 68's, and Al Watrous a 69.

Hutchison had a chance to beat Mehlhorn as the two tied for low at the end of the morning round, but the Pasadena pro was unable to pull another 67 out of his clubs.

Smith's card and Hutchison's cards follow: Smith, morning, 444 444 444 444 444—Afternoon, 444 444 444 444 444—Total, 888.

Morning, 444 444 444 444 444—Afternoon, 444 444 444 444 444—Total, 888.

Spinoza, Hutchison and Mehlhorn each succeeded in bettering 70 with a six on the card, a fact that gave duels in the gallery considerable encouragement.

Leading scores for the 72 holes follow, the score for each round and total, being given: Bill Mehlhorn, Pasadena, N. Y., 74-69-66-67-877.

Willard Hutchison, Pasadena, Calif., 74-67-72-71-854.

Frank Walsh, Appleton, Wis., 70-69-73-71-283.

Danny Williams, Shackamoon, N. J., 70-71-72-71-283.

Joe Kirkwood, Albany, Ga., 74-68-73-73-287.

Ed Dudley, Los Angeles, 68-74-70-74-286.

Larry Nabholz, Houston, 71-73-74-69-287.

Louis Leight, San Antonio, 72-71-71-73-287.

Frederick Smith, El Dorado, Ark., 74-72-72-71-287.

Shute, Columbus, Ohio, 71-70-73-71-287.

Week's Schedule

MONDAY. L. S. U. at Auburn. Virginia at North Carolina State. Alabama at Tennessee.

TUESDAY. L. S. U. at Auburn. Virginia at North Carolina State. Alabama at Tennessee.

WEDNESDAY. North Carolina State at Georgia. L. S. U. at Auburn. Virginia at North Carolina State. Alabama at Tennessee.

THURSDAY. L. S. U. at Auburn. Virginia at North Carolina State. Alabama at Tennessee.

FRIDAY. W. & M. at Clemson and Lee. Auburn at Clemson. Virginia at Maryland. North Carolina State at Florida.

SATURDAY. North Carolina State at Florida. Auburn at Clemson. W. & M. at V. M. I. Clemson at Furman. Vanderbilt at Georgia Tech. Virginia at North Carolina State. Kentucky vs. Miss. Aggies at Jackson. Virginia at Catholic.

The drive for the top of the Southern Conference basketball race will continue unabated this week when 19 conference games will see 18 southern teams in action.

Georgia Tech, now on top in the race with three victories and no setbacks, will play but once. Vanderbilt comes to Atlanta Saturday night for seek revenge for a trouncing received at Nashville last Friday.

Handed two weeks ago, Vanderbilt plays Sewanee at Sewanee in its only other game of the week.

Washington and Lee, in second place with three victories and no setbacks, will not play a conference tilt during the week, and Maryland, the only other undefeated southern contender, faces but one opponent, Virginia, at College Park Friday night.

North Carolina, defeated by South Carolina two weeks ago, and now leading the defeated teams with five victories against the single reversal, tackles three conference foes in an attempt to better its standing.

In the event Tech loses to Vanderbilt, the Hawks will have a chance to take the lead by winning all their games. North Carolina is host to Virginia Tuesday night, and V. P. I. Thursday. Saturday night the Tarheels invade Durham for a tilt with Duke.

North Carolina, another dark horse, will attempt to save its record of two one defeats with five victories in four games. Virginia, Georgia and Florida, twice, compose the week's rivals. The Wolfpack also plays Mercer at Macon Thursday in a non-conference affair.

Louisiana State, already defeated four times, tackles four games the first four days of the week, playing two at Auburn and two at Tusculum against Alabama.

Auburn, having split its first series of the year with Florida last week, takes on the Hawks Friday.

Georgia Saturday in addition to the L. S. U. games.

With the conference tournament but a month away member schools are playing but few games outside the conference and coaches are busy testing out the comparative strength of their own teams against rival southern outfits.

Women Golfing Stars To Play at Pinehurst. Pinehurst, N. C., January 27.—(P)—More than 150 women, including many recognized as national golfing stars, are expected to start in the annual women's tournament at Pinehurst today.

Ed Dudley, Los Angeles, 68-74-70-74-286.

Jack Takes to Road.

OLD JACK DEMPSEY is taking to the road. And he is not going out on the highway in C. C. Fyle's bunion derby either. Nor is he beginning his training to help him prepare for the strenuous work of refereeing a bout between Young Stribling and Mr. Kuckoshay of Boston, Massachusetts.

He is just as secretive about his real purpose in taking to the highway as his pretty wife is about her age but he is not fooling anybody much, least of all his dear public.

SAID public may be fooling itself, but William Harrison Dempsey, erstwhile fighter and champion of the world, is doing just one thing, according to the fans—preparing for a return to the ring.

Jack says he is resuming training to see if the old muscles will respond to the treatment. That is not important. He could take to the squared circle on a pair of crutches and one arm in a sling and still outdraw any fighter in the ring today unless it be William Lawrence Stribling.

JUST think what those two gentlemen in the same ring could do in the way of painless extraction of money from the public, if Stribling the Lithuanian ears off Mr. Josef Kuckoshay. They could pack Soldiers Field if another tier of seats were built to hold as many as the present stadium.

Such a fight is very likely to come off sometime next summer if Stribling beats Sharkey. This is no declaration of startling nature. Mr. Dempsey's dear public knows it and that is as it should be. The ballyhoo has started for his next fight. That's why he's out on the road again.

"Heap Big Injuns." AFTER looking at the "heap big injuns" of the world-famous Indian basketball team that will play here Tuesday night against an independent team of old college stars there seems nothing to do but give the locals a flock of pogo sticks with which to gain height.

These Injuns range in height from one to three stories and the center is three stories with a cupola. All they have to do is stand on their tiptoes and pass the ball around through the rafters as long as they like.

THEY have played 27 games on this last road trip and won about 27 of them so they must play pretty good basketball. Chief Crazy Bull, Haskell Indian football star, is along with the team and he entertains between halves with Indian songs, dances and folk stories. Then he shakes hands with all the youngsters present. That's a great kick for the kids because Chief Crazy Bull is most certainly a "real Injun."

Two days later the auditorium will again be the scene of a basketball treat when the Cleveland Rosenblums meet the Penn-Dixies of Chattanooga. The Rosenblums have with them three members of the old Celtic team who pleased the fans here last season with their tricks of the hardwood floor. They are professionals and play professional basketball as it should be played. The Indians are playing under amateur supervision but experts say they are about as good as the Rosenblums. Atlanta is in for a good bit of cage entertainment this week.

INDIAN STARS PLAY ATLANTA PROS TUESDAY

Atlanta's basketball fans are in for a great treat Tuesday night when the world famous Indians, players from Haskell Institute, meet the professional team at the city auditorium.

The Indians, who have an intense love for the great indoor sport, are said to have one of the flashiest and best stage teams in the country today. Members of the first string are all over six feet with one exception and this "trick" measures exactly six feet.

The leading point scorer of the Indian aggregation is High Sky, a rather small fellow who measures only six feet, five inches. High Sky has become so adept at the art of shooting baskets that he can perform several antics which have thrilled crowds over the country immensely.

Walton's team is composed of local players who scored at high school and college. The team has been working for some time and is pronounced as being in very good shape and is expected to give the Indian team a tough battle.

Tickets are on sale at Walton's restaurant and Trammell Scott's.

Pinehurst Will Stage Field Trials This Week

Pinehurst, N. C., January 27.—(United News.)—The 12th annual competition of the Pinehurst Field Trials club is scheduled to begin tomorrow with prospects of a big entry in the four events.

The contests to be decided are the members' stake, puppy, derby and all age free for all.

Harry D. Kirkover, of Buffalo, noted huntsman and dog fancier, is scheduled to be on hand for the trials and to assist in handling the meet.

"I agree with you, Andy," replied Duffy. "You did beat him. But listen: When a fellow outboxes another in 110 rounds and can't stop him I think the other fellow entitled to a draw, don't you?"

Paris, January 27.—(United News.)—The Borotra brothers won the covered courts doubles championship of France today, defeating the Torralba brothers in the finals, 6-2, 6-3, 3-6.

Mme. Kleinfeld won the women's singles title from Mrs. Golding of England, 6-4, 6-1. Jean Borotra and Mme. Borotra won the mixed doubles from Christian Bousmus and Mlle. Galley 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Boxer To Play In Basketball Tilt for Title

Willie Will Referee Fight and Autograph Pictures in Big Celebration.

Macon, Ga., January 27.—(P)—Arriving in Macon from New Orleans this morning, W. L. (Young) Stribling spent today visiting friends and attending to the preliminary duties of packing up his effects for the trip to Miami Tuesday and the opening of his training campaign there February 1.

Stribling stated that he was in excellent condition, and ready to start at a forward position for the Peeler All-Stars tomorrow night in a game for the city championship.

Stribling has played in several local basketball games this year and in good practice. The boy's love for basketball has not lessened during his years as a pugilist and he is regarded as being an even better court performer now than he was in his school days here when he played regular forward for Lanier High school in several G. I. A. A. tournaments and in the annual high school tourney at Chicago.

The arrival of both "Pa" Stribling and W. L. today was the occasion of a sort of family reunion for it brought together the members of the household for several weeks. "Ma" Stribling, Baby Stribling, and Young Stribling's wife were already here and they were joined in time for lunch together today by "Pa" and W. L. Plans are going forward for the "Stribling night" rally tomorrow night. The entire Stribling family will referee a prize fight and autograph pictures between halves.

"Pa" Stribling left for the Stribling farm at Ochlocknee but he will return to Macon tomorrow to be present at festivities honoring his son tomorrow night. The entire Stribling family, including the parents of Young Stribling's wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Kenney, who also reside here, will be present at the Stribling rally.

Pictures of Stribling appearing every show window about the city today and tickets for tomorrow night's production are being sold steadily since they were placed on sale. It is expected that the new riverside auditorium here will hardly hold the mammoth crowd that will gather to honor Stribling and extra seats have been erected to increase the capacity of the building.

Parks-Chambers Team Wins, 30-22. The 22d Infantry failed to stop the Parks-Chambers Bluebirds in their initial appearance and trailed at the final whistle, 30 to 22. The Parks-Chambers Bluebirds showed the first appearance and they pleased the fans with their fast passing and accurate shooting.

The Soldier five fought gamely and never lost courage at any stage of the game. Tedesco and Soebese were having trouble in making their shots sink.

Martin Green and Stevens did a fine piece of work on the defense. Time and time again these boys broke up some passing of the Parks-Chambers team.

Tom Angley and Hoke Bensley were stars on defense.

Georgetown Loses Its Big Home Game. Georgetown and Pittsburgh were tentatively matched for October 12 in Washington next year and the Hill-toppers left the date open. However, Nebraska had a previous claim on the date and now Georgetown is without a big home game. It plays Mt. St. Mary's, Western Maryland, West Virginia Wesleyan, Lebanon Valley and Virginia Wesleyan in the future.

Away from home Georgetown meets New York university in New York, N. Y. next week. The date is set for it. It is possible the October 12 date may yet be filled, however.

The Navy game at Annapolis probably will attract a great crowd. There is room for about 20,000 fans there. No admission is charged in Annapolis.

A Might Have Been. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., Philadelphia millionaire sportsman, interested in Rene De Vos, Belgian mid-dleweight, might have been a champion himself had he cared to be a pro in his younger days.

Zachary Gols. Pinehurst, N. C., January 27.—(P) Tom Zachary, of Graham, N. C., a member of the pitching staff of the New York American league ball club, is spending a few days at Pinehurst golfing. The twirler reports he is in excellent shape and expects to report to the Yankees in March in good condition.

Sonnenberg Sought For New York Match. New York, January 27.—(United News.)—Jack Curley, wrestling impresario, negotiated with Gus Sonnenberg today in an attempt to persuade the heavyweight wrestling champion to meet an opponent in Madison Square Garden in defense of his title on February 4. Sonnenberg, former Dartmouth college football star, who won the championship from Ed "Strangler" Lewis in Boston recently, has never appeared in New York.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

SPOOKY'S SURPRISE.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The wisest sometimes make mistakes; the shrewdest are deceived by fakes. —Spooky the Screech Owl.

Spooky the Screech Owl had been having a very good living in Farmer Brown's barn. Mice and Bats had been very plentiful there and Spooky had grown fat on them. He could always go outside when he felt like it, and he did go outside for a change once in a while. He went out by the way he had come in—through one of the little doorways that had been made for pigeons when Farmer Brown's Boy had kept them in the barn. But if it had been fine for Spooky, it had been a terrible time for Nibbles the Mouse and his relatives, and for the young Bats.

Spooky, like his big cousin, Hooty the Great Horned Owl, depends on his ears and his eyes. He can hear the faintest of sounds. With those big eyes of his he can see the smallest of movements. So when he hears a faint squeak, or the rustle of leaves or grass, he instantly looks in that direction and the instant he sees the least movement of anything over there he is ready to swoop. He does not always wait to see just what it is. He has learned that it is sometimes wisest to strike first and look afterward, especially when trying to catch mice. For several days the hunting in Farmer Brown's barn had not been so good. Spooky had been outside hunting for two or three nights. On this particular night he had been out all night. In fact, he returned to the barn just at daylight. Having been out all night, he was sleepy, and by the time Farmer Brown's Boy came out to do his morning chores, Spooky was fast asleep on one of the rafters high up in the roof.

Spooky slept until the middle of the afternoon. When he awakened it was almost dark there inside the barn. The light was dim, just the kind of light that all members of the Owl family love to hunt in. They can see perfectly, while the ones whom they are hunting cannot see them so well. Spooky opened his eyes, shook out his feathers, stretched a bit and then leaped over and looked down. All was still in the barn. Neither Farmer Brown nor Farmer Brown's Boy was there. It was just the time for venturesome young Rats or Mice to be abroad. Almost at once he caught sight of something moving at a corner of the grain bin. It could just make out something small and black moving just at the corner of that grain bin.

Spooky never wastes time. What could be moving down there but a Mouse or a young Rat? It must be one or the other. So down Spooky went. You know, he flies without noise. He comes along as silently as a shadow. That is just the way he went down there. His eyes were fixed on that little black spot that every now and then moved. Just as soon as he was near enough he pounced.

Things happened right then and there. Two people were very, very much surprised. It is a question which was the most surprised. You see, the thing that Spooky had pounced on was the end of Black Pussy's tail. If he could have looked around the corner of that grain bin he wouldn't have made any such mistake. Black Pussy was crouching behind the end of that bin, waiting for a Mouse. The end of her tail stuck out beyond the corner of the bin, and it was the twitching of the end of this tail that had caught Spooky's attention.

Now, when Spooky struck, one of his sharp little claws pricked that tail. It brought a yowl of both pain and fright from Black Pussy as she whirled to see what it all meant. That yowl frightened Spooky almost as much as he had frightened Black Pussy. He didn't stop to say "excuse me." He just sailed right on up into the shadowy top of the barn, leaving Black Pussy a sorely puzzled Cat. She hadn't even caught a glimpse of him and she didn't know what had happened to the end of her tail. (Copyright, 1929, for The Constitution.)

JEWISH-CHRISTIAN
CONFERENCE ENDS;
RECITAL IS GIVEN

Two services at the Atlanta Gospel tabernacle and a mass meeting and musical recital Sunday afternoon at the Baptist tabernacle, brought to a climax the Jewish-Christian conference at the Atlanta Gospel tabernacle. The mass meeting drew a large audience, which heard Alexander Kinsky, noted Russian violinist, in special recital. He also told the story of his conversion. Rev. Jacob Gartenhaus, of Atlanta; Rev. Peter Gorodish, of Poland; Rev. Henry Singer, of Detroit, and Dr. J. D. Manget, of Atlanta, president of the Friends of Israel Prayer league, spoke briefly.

Sunday night the conference closed with addresses by Rev. Henry Singer and Rev. J. L. Zacker, of Brooklyn.

The Rev. Mr. Singer spoke at the Gospel tabernacle on "The Passover," and the Rev. Zacker addressed the congregation of the Baptist tabernacle upon the subject, "If Jesus Be Not the Christ."

The object of the conference, which was pronounced a success by leaders, was to bring about better understanding and closer fellowship between Jews and Christians.

Miss Bowman and Mr. Schlossberg
Wed at Beautiful Home Ceremony

A marriage of widespread interest was that of Miss Thelma Bowman and Nathaniel Schlossberg, of Arcadia, Fla., which was solemnized at 6 o'clock Sunday evening, January 27, at the home of the bride's parents, 531 Harlandford avenue, N. E. The ceremony was performed by Dr. David Marx, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The home was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers. A beribboned aisle led to the improvised altar, which was banked with palms and ferns.

Preceding the ceremony a beautiful musical program was rendered by Miss Ruth Allen and Mrs. Mary Dobbs Griffith, on two golden harps stationed on either side of the altar.

"To a Wild Rose" was softly played by Mrs. Griffith during the ceremony.

First to enter was the lovely maid of honor, Miss Gladys Fleischaker, of Savannah, who was gowned in flesh colored chiffon with transparent straw hat to match. She wore black satin slippers with rhinestone buckles and carried an old-fashioned colonial bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Boaz, was gowned in rose tan chiffon with transparent straw hat of the same shade. Her bouquet was the old-fashioned colonial type. Miss Boaz entered with Joe Diamond, a fraternity brother of the groom.

The bride, who entered with her father, Meyer Bowman, was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Horace Lantz.

Her youthful beauty was enhanced by a rose beige chiffon Lanvin model, draped closely to her slender figure, and trimmed with crystal ornaments. Her close-fitting hat was of beige crocheted straw with a touch of brown velvet ribbon. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Bowman, mother of the bride, wore black chiffon. Her corsage was of roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Schlossberg, mother of the groom, wore viciaria chiffon. Her corsage was of sweet peas and valley lilies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home. Miss Laurette Berkowitz kept the bride's book. Miss Pauline Berkowitz and Mrs. Harry Axelrod assisted in entertaining.

The young couple left afterward for a wedding trip to Cuba. They will make their home in Orlando, Fla.

Woman's Division
Meets Monday.

Special features of the noon luncheon of the woman's division of the chamber of commerce Monday will be a talk on "Current Fiction" by Miss Jessie Hopkins, of the Carnegie library, and musical numbers by Miss Anna Mae Farmer, at the piano; August Machner, flutist, and Miss Mary Douglas.

This true cleanliness helps them keep well

Your laundry can help you—in this battle you're always fighting for your family, against germs and disease. Each of these laundries offers a family wash service that's thoroughly, healthfully sanitary.

THE real, sterilized cleanliness given to your clothes at these laundries is about as far from old-fashioned ways of handling the family wash, as the custom of using sanitary paper drinking cups is different from the old-time public drinking cup. You get more than mere whiteness in your sheets, towels, table linen and clothing—you get hospital sanitation. That means that all these things are sterilized—purified through and through—each time you send them in.

It's a modern service—based on modern knowledge of hygiene and family needs—and we want you, as an up-to-date homemaker, to understand the real protection it brings to your home.

The same sanitation in each of these five services:

WET WASH: Everything washed in mild suds and rinsed in eight to ten changes of water. The excess water is removed and the bundle is returned damp, sweet and clean, ready to iron or hang up to dry.

THRIFT: Everything carefully washed and thoroughly rinsed in eight to ten changes of water. The excess water is removed. ALL FLAT WORK IS IRONED. Other work is returned damp, ready for starching.

ROUGH DRY: (Dry Wash). Everything washed. Articles like knit underwear, hosiery, bath towels are fluffed dry ready for use. FLAT WORK IS NEATLY IRONED.

HOMESTIC: A most acceptable medium-priced ironed service. Flat work is tastefully ironed and folded. All wearing apparel is ironed.

PRIM-PREST: A finer laundry service. Everything washed in the purest of soft water and mild suds, everything beautifully ironed, ready to use or put away—a dainty service, complete in every detail.

In dry cleaning, too, these plants protect you. The garments are sterilized, besides being cleansed of spots and stains. They're safer for wearing, when they come back to you.

It may be expensive to experiment with a cold!

COLDS are dangerous—often developing into some one of those many serious diseases that last year caused more than 150,000 deaths in the United States. Don't take a chance. Treat your cold properly as soon as you feel it coming on.

Vapex has become accepted widely as the modern way to treat a cold. It is easy and pleasant to use. There is no fuss or bother about it. Put a drop on your folded handkerchief—breathe the vapor deeply through your nose. It will reach the innermost nasal passages and give you immediate relief. A drop on both ends of your pillow at night will let you rest and fight the cold while you sleep.

Vapex is a product of the war. Discovered by chance while the influenza was at its height, this new method of cold treatment was quickly adopted throughout England and America. Its ease of use and its pleasant, refreshing odor have caused many people to use Vapex regularly as an aid in keeping free from the many epidemics prevalent at this time of the year. The strength of one application lasts for an entire day. It may be used as often as wished.

Vapex costs a dollar the bottle containing

50 treatments. It is guaranteed and distributed by E. Fongera & Co., Inc., New York City.

A drop of Vapex on both ends of your pillow at night will fight the cold as you sleep.

"A population of 500,000 by 1932" is Atlanta's slogan. Let's all pull together for a Greater Atlanta.

The Constitution's Weekly Business Review

EDITED BY M. D. GLEASON

There is hardly a need or a want that cannot be filled in Atlanta's stores and factories.

Bird's Roofs Are Becoming Popular in This Section

The automobile is more and more influencing the acquisition of homes away from congested centers. Demand for new and better homes and for new buildings will have to be met in 1929, to keep pace with the movement to suburban developments because of improved streets, more miles of street car tracks and more motor-bus lines.

There are few large cities in this country that can equal Atlanta in its suburban environments, and builders of the many beautiful and substantial homes built around Atlanta since transportation facilities have been so improved, have taken care to see that the covering on their roofs are of the very latest fire-resisting materials.

Good judges of fine roofing can tell at a glance when they see the celebrated Bird's roof on a building. Atlanta is fortunate in having a representative dealer in the Miller Lumber company, of 117 Ridge avenue, S. W. What makes it easy for people to recognize Bird's roofs is the taste in design and colors in the various patterns made by this old and reliable firm. It is a veteran firm, for the great, great grandfathers of the present heads of Bird & Son first began to make roofs back when George Washington was president.

Many have probably delayed repairing that old worn-out, weather-beaten roof because they just didn't want to go through the trouble of ripping off the old shingles. They know that it would be a dirty, messy job, littering up the lawn and garden with splinters, nails and broken shingles.

Here is good news. They can cover the home without going through all this unnecessary work. Bird's Twins or Double Twins can be laid right over your present worn-out roof, and the new roof will add not only to comfort but greater fire protection as well.

"A gratifying feature about Bird's roofing," states the management of the Miller Lumber company, "is that there is the right roof for every kind of building, and a color and design to match the rest of the building plan or environment. Where Bird's roofs are used, buildings take on a new look that makes them appear to be worth many times more than the additional cost of putting on the new roof."

The Miller Lumber company carries the entire Bird line, including roofing, waterproof building papers, plastic cement, roof coating, wall-board and other materials of uniform, high quality, at right prices. In addition, the Miller Lumber company, carries a complete line of building material and is especially strong in furnishing seasoned, dry interior lumber and flooring. This lumber is accommodating to the person that may need just a few boards, a bundle of shingles or a roll of two, or roofing or any other building supplies. It will fill these orders as cheerfully as they can in carload lots and will also deliver quickly to any part of Atlanta or suburban territory.

CEACO-FAIR CO. ANNOUNCE THEY CARRY VALENTINES

C. E. Allen, proprietor of the Ceaco Toy Fair company, of 228 1-2 Mitchell street, S. W., announces that his company has stocked one of the most complete lines of Valentines ever seen in this section.

The samples on exhibition in the large salesrooms show an assortment in variety and design that will range in price from one cent to 25 cents. Included in the assortment is a large number of new novelty designs that will be very suitable to send to some favorite child.

One of the new innovations is a valentine and baby rattle made in combination, another is a valentine that has a small horn running through the middle of it. There are many designs that combine beautiful artificial flowers with the token of esteem being sent for Saint Valentine's day.

While this is a new line for the Ceaco company to carry, yet they have several hundreds of retail merchants all over the southland who are numbered among their good customers in buying toys and fireworks and to these merchants they are extending an invitation to call, write, telephone or wire for descriptive literature and price information.

Back to their new line, Mr. Allen says, goes the same guarantee of up-to-the-minute fresh goods, prompt shipments and other courtesies that has been his policy in 33 years of dealing with the retail merchants of the south. He said that in selecting his assortment he believed he has selected numbers that not only will be good for this Valentine season but will also be beautiful articles that can be sold as souvenirs and novelties at any time of the year.

Preferred Equipment Co. Adds New Industrial Burner

The Preferred Equipment Co., Inc., state distributors for Hart automatic oil burners, announce the addition of industrial oil burners to their present line, making a complete line for any heating purpose and a size specially suited for any heating plant and they will now sell automatic oil burners that will heat the small family home or the largest building or industrial plant.

"These new industrial burners were first put under a very rigid test of the engineers of the Hart company and then tried out a year before they were put on the market and have proven a real achievement and a forward step in the industrial oil burner field."

The industrial oil burners are fully automatic with straight electric ignition burn the cheapest grades of fuel oil. A double ignition feature insures against failure from igniting and a special nozzle throws a flat, wide flame at the bottom of the combustion chamber which increases the fire travel and adds to the efficiency of the plant.

This new industrial burner will attract much attention among the owners of small coal burning plants throughout the country who will see many advantages in it, especially those who may wish to convert their old coal plants to oil heat during certain periods and then more intense heat for certain times, also for those who may be limited for space in store coal or wood. Again these industrial burners will greatly supplement any other heat where the heat is to be carried a long way from its original source. It will be well for all those who may not be wholly satisfied with their present industrial heating or power plants to look into the claims of the representatives for this new industrial burner.

In the Hart domestic line, they have added a new small burner that they will sell at a much lower price than their large burners and the manager, Harry Woodward, of the Atlanta territory says that this new small burner will meet all the best requirements of the small home owner, yet at the same time not prove much of a strain on his pocket book. The Preferred Equipment office which is located on Spring street offers a service to all their customers that is worth while to consider as most of those connected with it are former Georgia Tech men, and any oil burner bought from them has men back of it that assure their customers that the home owner need not worry about the heating equipment of his family with his phone in easy reach.

As the sales rooms of the Preferred company is so easily accessible and sample burners in operation and on exhibition and with plenty of parking space available all those who are interested in the new industrial burner detail information, where it is not convenient to call in person a phone call or a written request will bring forth literature that will bring more light on this interesting oil heating subject.

Stock issue, most of which would be held by the English concern. Lake Superior, New Jersey Zinc, and Kennecott Copper were among the strong metal and mining issues, although the group generally yielded to selling late in the week. Increased crude oil production and declining prices unsettled the oils and most of the early gains were lost.

New York, January 27.—(P)—Continued buying of utilities, causing wide advances in prices throughout the group, inspired a general upturn on the curb market during the past week. Some automotive and mining issues, and many specialties, joined the advance when Thursday brought disclosure of the improvement in the credit situation, while favorable news developments affecting individual issues attracted further support.

The demand for utilities was ascribed not only to a trend in sympathy with that of utilities on the "big board," but also to expectations of further mergers, good earnings reports and rumors of a fight for power pool control on the Atlantic seaboard. Electric Bond and Share, which finished the week at a new top around 226, up nearly 24 points, was one of many features. Duke Power, American Superpower, B. Pennsylvania Water and Power, and several others made gains nearly as great.

Reports that Checker Cab has on hand unfilled orders exceeding $3,000,000, or more than all of 1928, inspired buying of that issue which sent it into new high ground above 70 and brought support to other automobiles, notably Auburn, Sparks, Withington, Thompson Products A. and Stroeck. Ford of Canada yielded some ground, but Ford of England, after dropping to new lows around 15, strengthened on reports Ford of Germany would soon put out a large

Oil well and gas supplies, radio and electrical equipment were favored. Heavy demand for copper brought a 1-4 cent increase in prices. Rayon and silk manufacturing were maintained at high levels, and shoe manufacturers were fairly busy.

An unfavorable development was a cut in Mid-Continent crude oil prices further increases in crude production. Although crude production is expected to reach record levels this year, the oil industry does not look for a particularly prosperous year unless success is achieved in controlling production. No effective control is looked for save through merger of many of the independent producers.

Building operations and retail sales were interfered with in several sections by the severe weather. Fears were expressed for the winter wheat crop, as the covering snow is rather light and the ground is not so dry as the levels of the year. Flour mill operations were helped by large sales, and corn was in good export demand. The raising of the estimate of the 1928 Canadian crop restrained the rise in wheat prices somewhat.

Cotton prices were depressed by the government report on cotton ginnings, showing a gain of more than 11 percent over the previous year. Print cloth eased and buying of dry goods outside the larger centers was rather unsatisfactory. The jewelry industry continued to lag, but there was again more business in furniture.

The credit situation was still regarded as rather vexatious, with rates for borrowing around the level of the banks substantially reduced their borrowing at the federal reserve, and the ratio of the New York reserve bank rose to the level of this time last year. Resumption of the gold movement from England for the first time since last autumn was greeted with considerable volume was regarded as problematical.

'NIGHT HOSTESS' OPENS TONIGHT AT ERLANGER

The Wagner Players will again blossom forth tonight at the Erlanger theater, presenting one of Broadway's great, big current successes, "Night Hostess," which will remain throughout the week with the usual matinee Wednesday and Saturday.

"As timely as tomorrow's newspaper," is a phrase used in the billing of Philip Dunning's latest hit and the action of this powerful melodrama proves it isn't exaggerating to bill the show in this manner, for exciting things happen with rapid succession in this unusual play which are headlined in the daily press every day. It is a wonderful panorama of New York's mad, gambling, night life, masterfully penned and a play with a moral, genuine humor and big moments that you'll never forget.

The full strength of the original Wagner company, together with many added players, will be enlisted in the performance of "Night Hostess." Seats for all performances are now on sale at the Erlanger box office and at Phillips & Crew Piano company.

BODY OF PASTOR FOUND NEAR AUTO UNDER LAKE ICE

Raquette Lake, N. Y.,—January 27.—The body of the Rev. Henry Thumling, pastor of St. William's church, here, who disappeared yesterday while en route home, was found today beneath the ice in a hole through which his automobile had plunged.

The car was located 40 feet beneath

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 19

On the day Tarzan established his right to respect the tribe gathered in a small natural amphitheater. Here, safe from interruptions, they celebrated victories. In the center was one of those strange earthen drums the anthropoids build for their queer rites, which men have sometimes heard but never witnessed.

Tarzan, Lord Greystoke, is doubtless the only human being who ever joined in the fierce, mad, intoxicating revel of the Dum-Dum. This day the grisly rites marked the killing of a giant ape—a member of another tribe. Two mighty bulls laid the body before the earthen drum.

They squatted there beside it as guards. The other apes curled themselves up to sleep until the moon should give the signal for the commencement of the savage orgy. For hours absolute quiet reigned. At length, as darkness settled upon the jungle, the apes commenced to beat themselves.

They formed a great circle around three old females, who, armed with knotted branches, began softly tapping upon the surrounding surfaces of the drum, as the ascending moon silvered the treetops. Presently a wild rhythmic din pervaded the jungle for miles around. It rose to almost deafening volume.

Kerchak sprang into the open space, threw his head far back and, beating his breast, emitted three his fearful roaring shriek. Other males repeated the horrid, bloodthirsty screams. Then began the mad whirl of the death dance. And Tarzan, sweat-streaked, muscular, glistening, was one of the wild, leaping horde!

VAUDEVILLE-PICTURES—
KEITH'S GEORGIA—"The Night Hostess."

LOEW'S CAPITOL—Low time: "The Flying Fleet."

FEATURE PICTURES—
HOWARD—"The Doctor's Secret."

METROPOLITAN—"Synthetic Sin."

RIALTO—"The Mating Call."

MOVIES—
ALAMO NO. 2—"Name the Woman."

CAMEO—"The Foreign Legion."

LOEW'S GRAND—"The Singing Fool."

NEIGHBORHOOD MOVIES—
DEKALB—"The Hollywood Story."

EMPIRE—"The Show Girl."

PONCE DE LEON—"The Silver Slave."

WEST END—"Our Dancing Daughters."

Keith's Georgia.

Anatole Friedland, famous impresario of the exclusive Club Anatole, brings to the Georgia theater his entire Night club, including dancers, hostesses, page boys and even waiters. Acting as master of ceremonies, Friedland makes you feel as you were actually attending the club. Outstanding in this production is the famous LeBlanc and DuCharm adagio dance team. The feature picture is "Blindfold," from the story by Chas. Francis Cox, starring George O'Brien and Lois Moran.

Loew's Capitol.

Lieutenant Gitz Rice will appear with his Northwest Mounties in the headline spot on the new bill of vaudeville which opens at Loew's Capitol theater today. Other acts are George Watts and Belle Hawley in a comedy skit with songs; Jack Conway and company in a comedy sketch, "Alpine Sports"; a novelty acrobatic act and Jack Goldie, popular blackface singer. The Loew feature picture is "The Flying Fleet" with Ramon Novato in the leading role.

Howard.

Gripping with tense drama, Paramount's second all-talking feature, "The Doctor's Secret," starring Ruth Chatterton and H. B. Warner, is offered by the Howard this week. This splendid opus, which has won the acclamations of critics generally, tells a novel story of a woman seeking ideal love, willingly risking home and security for its gain. One person discovers her secret. A doctor. Shall he reveal it despite the cries of the woman, "Don't tell my husband!"

Rialto.

Thomas Meighan comes to the Rialto this week in "The Mating Call," his second starring vehicle since his popular appearance in "The Racket." Supporting him are two of Meighan's most famous stars, Evelyn Brent, who plays the role of the sophisticated woman who casts aside love for wealth, and Eileen Adore, taking the part of a Russian immigrant girl who is chosen by the star as his wife. The story is laid in Florida and stands out not only for its exceptionally fine plot, but for also the picturesque scenery and atmosphere.

Metropolitan.

Colleen Moore and Antonio Moreno, co-stars in "Synthetic Sin," at the Metropolitan this week have never had better nor more suitable roles. The picture is the story of a girl with unlimited ambition for a career and set out to win as no one has staked before to get enough experience to do as she wished. The story is fraught with suspense and moves as fast as lightning from one situation to another. Jack North, wizard of the lamp, is seen and heard in "The Ban-Joker," a Vitaphone number. "Mission Bells," a color classic, is seen on the same program, and so is Fox Movietone News.

Loew's Grand.

The picture which blends pathos more perfectly with happiness and gaiety than any produced in recent years, "The Singing Fool," with Al Jolson in his greatest role, will appear in a special re-run engagement this week at Loew's Grand theater. Here is an epic of night life which will bring both tears and laughs in floods.

Cameo.

"The Foreign Legion," coming to the Cameo today, presents an unusual combination of personalities. Lewis Stone, debonair portrayal of a hundred virile roles; Norman Kerry, romantic hero of many successes; Mary Nolan, a blonde beauty of the vampire type; and June Marlowe, one of the screen's sweetest ingenues, all are entangled in an exotic story of blood and iron, of heart and sex.

Alamo No. 2.

The Mardi Gras sequence in "Name the Woman," the Columbia feature at the Alamo No. 2 theater today is a replica of the celebration in New Orleans. It shows one of the balls in full swing with hundreds of girls in gorgeous costumes. A study of the human face shows. The lighting used for the scenes produce an unusual screen effect.

Empire.

Acclaimed the peppiest picture made in many long months, the sensation-hours in the fuselage of the plane. His companions, who were also injured, were too weak to aid him.

There came also the story of heroic sacrifice and suffering by Salmon river cowboys and stockmen who pushed through snowdrifts ten feet deep to take an 11-year-old girl to a surgeon.

Marie Aram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Aram, stockman living in the Salmon river country south of Lewiston, was stricken with acute appendicitis Thursday morning. The nearest surgeon was at Cottonwood, Idaho, 30 miles away. Aram started with his daughter in a covered sleigh. They battled through a blizzard all day, but were forced to turn back home.

The father then telephoned his friends, living in the sparsely settled mountain country. They responded on horseback, gathering all available horses in the country and brought them along.

With cowboys forcing the horses ahead of them, a trail was made again Friday morning. Cowboys drove the animals through the snow, ten feet deep. Progress was slow, almost by inches, but near midnight the caravan reached a more sheltered road in Rice creek valley, where a fresh relay of horses, sent from Cottonwood, awaited it. Late last night the scheduled stopping place somewhere in the well-worn levels about 5 below.

Relative comfort returned to Illinois over Sunday as temperatures rose into the twenties, but traffic was still in peril from the glassy pavements. Two men were killed today by falls on the ice. Tonight the mercury was down-bound once more with its scheduled stopping place somewhere in the well-worn levels about 5 below.

TALES OF HEROISM COME OUT OF SNOW.
Denver, January 27.—(AP)—Woven into the commonplace weather reports from the snarled Rocky mountain regions where blizzards have been exerting for days, came tales of heroic rescues and struggles today. There was the usual plight, too, of winter-bound animals and live stock, cut off from food by the heavy snowfall and unrelenting from the icy winds, but the milk of human kindness flowed freely where suffering fellows needed succor.

A thrilling and dramatic story of their heroic experiences while marooned in the Ruby mountain wilds of Nevada, was recounted at Salt Lake by two passengers of the ill-fated Boeing air transport plane which was forced down in a blinding wind and snowstorm 45 miles east of Elko, Nev., Thursday.

Frank Barber, of Oakland, Calif., the pilot, was taken to St. Mark's hospital in a semi-conscious condition when he arrived here this morning by train from Elko. He suffered concussion of the brain and sat for 24 hours.

Former Americus Resident Tells of Chicago Gangsters

Americus, Ga., January 27.—(Special.)—Two bullet holes in the tunnel of an automobile driven by Charles Smith, Americus, now residing in Chicago, tell a silent tale of a gangland terror that grips that city.

Smith, who spent three days here as the guest of his mother, Mrs. Eshton Buchanan, this week, is engaged in the fruit business in Chicago, and because of business connections, has many dealings with foreigners in Chicago.

He was while disposing of a car of "juice grapes" on Clinton street, he was surrounded by a gang of five American friends Saturday that ran into a gangland terror that grips that city.
